SOONER TRADITIONS

BOOMER SOONER

SOONER TRADITION

Winning is an attitude that permeates the entire University of Oklahoma athletics program. Championships and postseason play are synonymous with pratically every Sooner sport.

Over the last 11 years no OU program has accomplished more than the softball team. The architect - head coach Patty Gasso - needed just five years before she took her team to the pinnacle of the sport. And OU hasn't dropped from elite territory since.

Gasso and company have created a tradition that rivals nearly any program in collegiate softball and it has only taken 11 years.

During that span OU has averaged 50 wins a season and won - on average - 75 percent of its contests.

It's no wonder the Sooners have risen to national prominence so quickly.

THE ARCHITECT

The OU senior woman administrator at the time - Marita Hynes - took a major risk when she chose Patty Gasso to lead the softball program in 1995. Gasso was a successful junior college coach at Long Beach City College without any ties to the Midwest, let alone Oklahoma.

Gasso jumped at the opportunity and immediately began attracting top athletes from each coast and everywhere in between. Players like Kansas native Lisa Carey and California native Heather Scaglione were given the chance to shine in the Sooner spotlight and are perfect examples of players from different backgrounds who have become some of the biggest names in the sport.

DEFINING MOMENT

The program's defining moment came in its first trip to the Women's College World Series in 2000. The Sooners came away victorious. Since then, they have made appearances in five of the last six WCWS and have become one of the most recognizable teams in the sport.

POSTSEASON PRIDE

Five. 23-3.

The numbers tell the story of the Oklahoma softball program's dramatic rise into elite company.

The Sooners have made trips to the Women's College World Series in five of the last six seasons. No other team east of Pac 10 country had ever been to five consecutive WCWS.

OU qualified for the national championship tournament by winning five consecutive NCAA Regional Championships. The Sooners have proved themselves on their home field and on opposite ends of the country.

During that run to five straight WCWS, no team has been more efficient in its efforts. Patty Gasso's troops have gone 23-3 in regionals over the last six seasons, which includes a 19-game winning streak. Whether it's eliminating Texas and defeating Cat Osterman or traveling to Florida or knocking off No. 1 Arizona on its home field, the Sooners have been dominant in the regional format.

Since current head coach Patty Gasso stepped onto campus in 1995, the Sooners have won two Big 12 Tournaments, five NCAA Regional Championships and qualified for five WCWS.

That is a run that is unparalleled by any program east of Arizona and one that can only be matched by a few out west.

2000 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

OU All-American Lisa Carey´s two-run home run in the national title game gave the Sooners the decisive 3-1 lead.

NATIONAL CHAMPS!

The University of Oklahoma earned its first-ever softball national championship by beating UCLA, 3-1, in front of a Women's College World Series record crowd of 8,049 at Don E. Porter Hall of Fame Stadium in Oklahoma City on May 29, 2000.

The title was the first by a women's athletic program at Oklahoma. The Sooners finished the season with the best record in the country at 66-8.

Oklahoma, the third seed in the WCWS, got on the scoreboard in the third inning with a two-run home run from All-American first baseman Lisa Carey. It was the second homer in as many days for the junior as her solo shot versus Arizona in the semifinals lifted the Sooners to the title game.

Centerfielder Erin Evans, who knocked a single to left field for her second hit of the game, scored ahead of Carey. The shot was Carey's 20th of the year and tied the OU single-season record which was set in 1999 by Lynette Velazquez.

The Bruins tightened the game with a run of their own in the bottom of the sixth inning. Freshman Natasha Watley reached on an infield single and then moved to third on a Julie Adams single to right-center field. Watley scored on a sacrifice fly by UCLA catcher Julie Marshall, but OU pitcher Jennifer Stewart promptly recorded her only strikeout of the game on the next batter to end the inning.

Stewart earned the World Series Most Outstanding Player award, earning victories in all four of OU's WCWS wins. Carey and Braitsch joined Stewart on the all-tournament team.

OU became just the second non-West Coast team to win a softball national championship.

NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHP NOTABLES

Left-handed pitcher Jennifer Stewart was named WCWS Most Outstanding Player after limiting UCLA to one run on eight hits in the 2000 title game.

Shortstop Kelli Braitsch was one of three Sooners to claim WCWS All-Tournament team honors. Joining Braitsch on the squad were Lisa Carey and Jennifer Stewart

The Sooners softball championship was the first national title won by a women's athletic team in the history of the University of Oklahoma.

BIG 12 SUPREMACY

Oklahoma has claimed the Big 12 regular season title on three occasions while the Sooners have also clinched the Big 12 Tournament title twice.

Just 10 years into its existence, the Big 12 has vaulted to the top of intercollegiate athletics. A regular player in the determination of the national championships, the conference offers its more than 4,000 student-athletes that rare opportunity to compete in the national spotlight year in and year out.

No Big 12 softball member has seen that spotlight shine more brightly in its direction than the Oklahoma program.

The Sooners have been on the national stage for the Women's College World Series in five of the last six years. No Big 12 team has made more appearances at the WCWS since the inception of the conference in 1996. In fact, Nebraska and Texas are the only other teams to make more than one trip to the WCWS during that time frame.

It doesn't stop there though.

OU has more NFCA All-Americans than the rest of the conference. The nation's coaches have voted 20 Sooners onto the NCAA's elite teams. Only two other teams - Nebraska with 12 and Texas with 11 - can claim to have double-digit All-Americans during the Big 12 era.

The Sooners lead the pack in All-Big 12 first team selections as well.

They also pace the conference in all-time winning percentage.

The list goes on and on (i.e. ... postseason appearances, overall record).

OU set the standard by winning the first Big 12 Championship in 1996. The Sooners upped the ante' in 2000 when they won the conference's only national title. Now, the Sooners continue to pace the league and raise the bar with four return trips and a bevy of honors along the way.

BEDLAM SUCCESS

The Sooners' work in the Bedlam Series is even more impressive. Since the official start of the Bank of Oklahoma Bedlam Series presented by your Local Ford Dealers (2001), the trophy hasn't left Norman. OU has won it outright four of the five years and retained it after a split in 2003. Since the start of Big 12 play, OU has done no worse than a split with Oklahoma State in the regular season series, while claiming the series in eight of 10 years.

BIG 12 WINNING PERCENTAGE

OU head coach Patty Gasso came on board in 1995 and one year later the Big 12 was born. Since season one, the Sooners have proved to be the class of the conference. They won the first regular season title, they were the first to 50 wins and the first to 100 wins. It's no wonder they lead the conference in all-time winning percentage (illustrated on the right). Below is a look at OU's year-by-year record in Big 12 play.

BIG 12 ALL-AMERICANS

The Sooners have certainly made their mark on the Big 12 scene, but they haven't stopped there. OU has raked in more national and regional honors than any other Big 12 program (All-America honors illustrated to the right). No area better emphasizes that distinction than All-Americans. Below is a list of the 20 OU All-Americans during the Big 12 era.

INDIVIDUAL HONORS

With team accomplishments comes individual recognition. That adage has held true with the Oklahoma softball program, which has raked in just about every honor out there.

Start with the coaching staff. OU head coach Patty Gasso, the architect of the Sooners' move to the top of the softball world, has been named the Big 12 Coach of the Year three times - 1996, 1999, 2000. Gasso and her staff were named Speedline/NFCA Division I National Coaching Staff of the Year in 2000 after claiming the National Championship. The OU coaching staff has also garnered the NFCA Midwest Region Coaching Staff of the Year award on five occasions - 1996, 1999, 2000, 2001 and 2004.

Since the start of Big 12 play, OU players have accumulated more honors than any other conference member. The list starts with All-Americans, of which OU has 20. At the regional level 40 players have landed on the Midwest team. Among the Big 12 ranks, 39 Sooners have notched first team conference awards. Add in four Big 12 Players of the Year, two Freshman of the Year, two Defensive Players of the Year, one Newcomer of the Year, 31 Players of the Week and 18 Pitchers of the Week and the list becomes overbearing.

The softball program has always produced well-rounded athletes and the academic honors don't take a backseat. In 2000, Lana Moran became the first Sooner in any sport to garner the Academic All-American of the Year (see note on page 11). Six student-athletes have been named Academic All-Americans. Eight have earned Academic All-District recognition. A total of 36 were named Academic All-Big Eight and already 44 have earned Academic All-Big 12 acclaim.

Two-time Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year Heather Scaglione is the only player to ever receive the award in the conference.

DEFINITION OF A STUDENT-ATHLETE

Oklahoma pitcher Lana Moran took the term student-athlete to new heights with her 2000 Academic All-American of the Year recognition. The lone senior on the 2000 National Championship team, Moran captained the team as she tallied a 26-2 mark with five shutouts. Moran's biggest achievement came in the classroom where the San Bernardino, Calif., native compiled a 3.88 GPA in sociology. Moran was a two-time GTE first team Academic All-American, a four time Academic All-Big 12 selection and the first Sooner in any sport to be named Academic All-American of the Year.

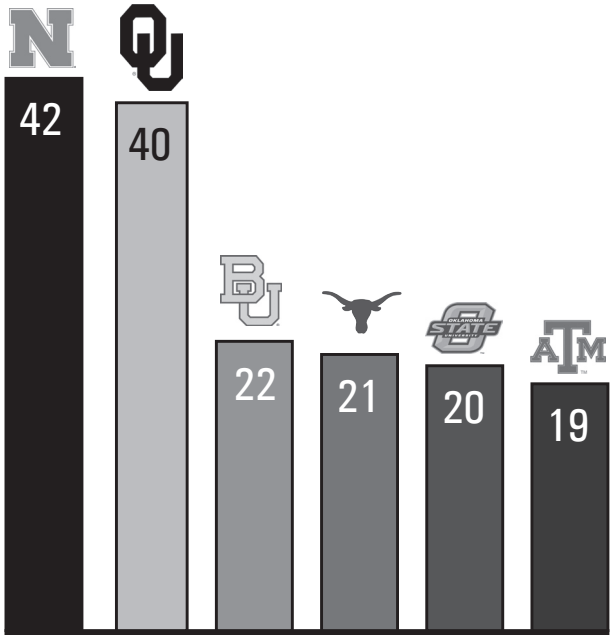
Below is a graph that breaks down the Big 12 leaders in Midwest All-Region awards.



USA INFLUENCE

RED, WHITE & BLUE

The phone in Oklahoma head coach Patty Gasso's office rang three different times. Each time the USA Elite Team selection committee was on the other end. Each time they wanted Gasso to gauge the interest one of her players' would have in playing for the 2004 Elite Team.

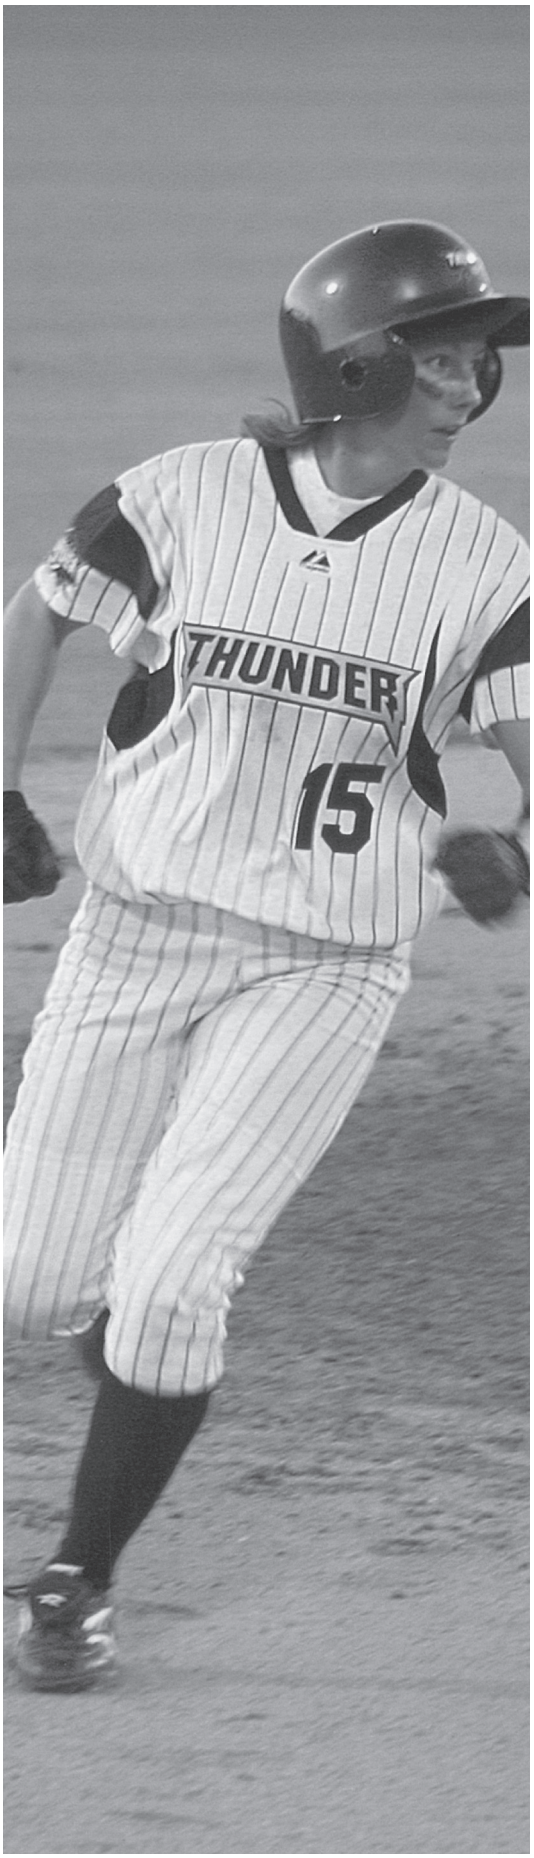
After the third call, Gasso sat in her office and pondered what had happened over the last month. During that span, three Sooners had been invited (and accepted) to play in the First World University Softball Championships as members of the USA Elite Team, which ranks only behind the Olympic Team. Three Sooners were on the 16 player team, which was a first for any team at OU and only the fourth time any softball program had placed that many players on the squad at the same time.

It was just another sign that OU was among collegiate softball's creme de la creme but it still took some time to hit Gasso.

Sooner players have been called on before. Former Sooners Kami Keiter Heather Scaglione were rookies on the 2004 squad. Junior Norrelle Dickson, on the other hand, has played in five tournaments with the Elite squad. Senior Kristin Vesely played for the USA Junior National Team before her freshman year and alum Leah Gulla (2000-03) was part of the most recent Olympic Trials. Additionally, alums Christina Enea, Kelli Braitsch and Lisa Carey have received a number of tryouts.

Sooner softball has carved its niche into USA Softball and Gasso should be ready for future calls.

Three players of the 16-member 2004 USA Elite Team were Sooners.



SOONERS IN THE PROS

As the sport of softball has risen in popularity over the last decade, the number of opportunities for collegiate athletes to play following their career has skyrocketed.

The Sooners have watched numerous alums graduate to the professional ranks. As far back as Jill Most, Jennfier Jaime and Lynnette Velasquez, OU has made an impact on the highest stage of softball.

During the inaugural National Pro Fastpitch College draft, three former Sooners were selected. Erin Evans made the most of her opportunity as an All-Star for the Houston Thunder, who had the best record during the league's first season. Leah Gulla and Christy Ring were also drafted by Colorado in the first NPF draft.

Most recently, Oklahoma led all programs with three draftees in the 2005 NPF Senior Draft. Former Sooner All-American Heather Scaglione was the first catcher selected and the fourth pick overall. Kami Keiter was selected in the second round with the 11th overall selection by the Akron Racers, while first baseman Christina Enea went as the first pick of the third round (13th overall) to the Chicago Bandits.

The Women's College World Series has been the biggest event in Oklahoma over the last few years.

The Oklahoma softball team capitalized on that exposure by winning in its first trip to the WCWS in 2000. Six years later, and four additional 28 mile trips north to Oklahoma City, and the Sooners are one of collegiate softball's most recognizable programs.

Patty Gasso's squad enjoys more coverage than arguably any program in the country. The unique media landscape in Oklahoma (check note on page 15) has something to do with that. Five straight WCWS has been a bigger influence.

Perhaps nothing better illustrates the softball program's rise than a June, 2004 story in the largest paper in the state, The Oklahoman.

Columnist Jenni Carlson boldly proclaimed head coach Patty Gasso as the best coach at the University. Carlson ranked Gasso's achievements above those of football coach Bob Stoops, basketball coaches Kelvin Sampson and Sherri Coale and gymnastics coach Mark Williams. One opinion sparked argument throughout the state.

Gasso couldn't buy publicity that good.

But she and her teams' have certainly earned it.

TAKING CENTER STAGE

Being a major Division I athletics program in a state without a high scale professional team has its advantages. Oklahoma athletics receive more coverage than any other entity in the state.

Sooner softball receives a big slice of that coverage. Behind football and the basketball programs, softball and baseball are next on the food chain. The fact that softball and baseball are on the same level at OU says a lot about the success of Patty Gasso's program.

The media attention peaked to a near all-time high in 2004 (just short of the 2000 national championship season) when the Sooners advanced out of the toughest regional in the country, in the process knocking off No. 1 Arizona and No. 9 Louisiana-Lafayette. The Sooners were not only the biggest story in Oklahoma, but they stole the spotlight on the national level of collegiate softball.

On page 14 are a few examples of the many front page stories in the Oklahoman and the Norman Transcript.

PATTY GASSO

Head coach Patty Gasso has taken the Sooners to the WCWS five out of the last six years.

A pioneer and legend after 11 years. Better believe it.

Oklahoma head coach Patty Gasso has blazed the trail for the Big 12, which has quickly gained national softball respect in just 10 years of existence. No person has been more responsible for the conference's rise in prominence than the winningest coach in its history.

With five trips to the Women's College World Series in the last six years, OU has not only earned respect but validated an entire conference.

Her work at OU has done more than just net gains for her employers and league.

The Midwest was a dormant recruiting area when she arrived in 1995. Presently, the Midwest and South (especially Oklahoma, Texas, Louisiana and Florida) rank a very close second to California.

All that without even mentioning her accomplishments.

In 2003, Oklahoma was named the fifth best program of all-time by the National Fastpitch Coaches Association. Go back to 1994, before Gasso arrived in Norman, and it's a guarantee that OU doesn't even sniff the top 25.

During her tenure, the Sooners have reached the postseason every year. They have claimed five Regional Championships, made five WCWS appearances and claimed one national championship.

Not many coaches around the land can claim those credentials. Then again, if you tally the combined accomplishments of many conferences, they can't either.

So what's next? It would be a mistake to say more of the same. This program has risen dramatically for 10 years and Gasso doesn't intend to slow the pace one bit.

Titles like "Coaching Legend" and "Best Coach In Big 12 History" are usually reserved for retired leaders.

In Gasso's case, there is no need to wait, she has already earned both titles.

CAREER ACCOMPLISHMENTS

MEDIA SAVVY

Coach Gasso understands the role of the media. In fact no one is a better or more willing publicist for the program than she. Whether it's a weekly spot on local radio, or guest commentating on FOX for the Big 12 Tournament, or in-game interviews with ESPN or post game radio interviews, the fact is Gasso has a knack for live broadcasts. Her on-air skills have made her a favorite of local and national outlets alike.

ASSISTANT COACH MELYSSA LOMBARDI

The same attributes that drew OU head coach Patty Gasso to Melyssa Lombardi as a player are the reasons that she has excelled as the pitching coach on the Oklahoma staff.

Lombardi is renowned for her work ethic and softball mind.

Watch her give pitching signs to her catchers and you'll quickly learn how complex her mind is.

Listen to Lombardi break down opposing hitters on film or observe her meticulously chart her pitching staff and the work ethic will come beaming through.

Those attributes are innate.

Another one is uncanny... it's the fact that she is a Gasso clone.

The head and assistant coach think on the same wave length and fall just short of finishing each other's sentences.

It's no wonder that Lombardi has been on staff for eight years and despite being one of the hottest head coaching prospects in the country, she has shown little desire to venture out of Norman.

All those traits have translated into one of the nation's best pitching staffs year in and year out.

Three pitchers have garnered four All-America honors under her tutelage and the staff has continually ranked among the best in the Big 12 and country.

The numbers below illustrate where the pitching staffs ranked in the Big 12 and NCAA, as well as the rank of the top pitcher on the respective staffs over the last six seasons.

OU PITCHING STAFF RANKINGS

Team	Big 12/NCAA	Individual Big 12/NCAA
2000	2/25	4/60
2001	4/NR	3/NR
2002	3/18	1/6
2003	3/18	4/12
2004	3/NR	4/46
2005	4/NR	5/46

HOWARD DOBSON

ASSISTANT COACH HOWARD DOBSON

Howard Dobson has quickly made a name for himself in collegiate softball. The timeline of his rise to national recognition is impressive.

Dobson began to gain national respect when he arrived at Houston. He was on the first coaching staff for the Cougars in 2000 and helped lead the rookie program to a fifth place finish in Conference USA. Two years later, he had the Cougar offense at the top of Conference USA with league best marks in hits, runs, slugging percentage, RBI and home runs. That squad ranked 12th in the country in batting average and 30th in runs per game.

When Dobson took the job at Oklahoma, he had to live up to a serious legacy. The OU softball team had led the conference in hitting for three consecutive years.

Dobson's first season saw the Sooners finish second in the batting average race but they topped the conference in runs and slugging percentage and ranked third in on-base percentage.

Last season, Dobson had his best season since joining the program. The Sooners finished fourth in the nation in batting average with a .320 mark while leading the Big 12 in RBI (339) and hits (568). Dobson was influential in the making of 2005 All-American Kristin Vesely, one of three to earn All-America honors last season. Vesely finished the 2005 season as the league's top hitter with a .451 batting average (sixth in the nation).

In 2004 OU won the Big 12 team batting title and led the conference in nine offensive categories. Heather Scaglione broke through and was hands down the most dominant hitter in the conference. Her work garnered her first team All-America honors, thanks to leading the Big 12 in five offensive categories.

Yet that wasn't his most impressive work of the year. Dobson was the star of OU's improbable 2004 postseason run. Through hours of preparation, he was able to lay out a flawless game plan for the NCAA Regional in Tucson. OU put together the best offensive numbers among the 64 teams in regionals and soundly defeated the top two pitchers (statistically) in the nation - Alicia Hollowell (Arizona) and Brooke Mitchell (Louisiana-Lafayette).

SOONER® PIPELINE

BUILDING FUTURE LEADERS

Numerous student-athletes have come to Oklahoma hoping to continue their softball career, not just on the field as an NCAA athlete, but as a coach when they finish their careers in Norman.

OU head coach Patty Gasso has always encouraged her players to be active in the sport when their time as a Sooner has come to a close.

After 11 years with OU, Gasso has proteges sprinkled all over the country. Eight former players are coaching at the collegiate level, as well as two former assistant coaches. Highlighting the collegiate group is 2000 WCWS MVP Jennifer Stewart, who is in her second year as the pitching coach for Big 12 foe Texas Tech. Christy Ring, an OU graduate assistant in 2003, is now a full time assistant with Concordia University in Irvine, Calif. Casey Dickson, who played for Gasso from 1995-97, is entering her fourth year as the head coach at Frank Phillips Junior College (Texas).

Other alums are coaching on the high school or travel ball scene. Perhaps the most recognized of the group is Kim Young, who is the head softball coach and director of athletics at Mayfair High School in California. 2004 graduate Katie Overton wasted no time before joining the coaching ranks. Soon after the 2004 WCWS, Overton took a job as an assistant coach for the Jitterbugs, a travel ball squad based in Oklahoma City.

The Sooner pipeline continues to grow with the graduation of each class. Add in two assistant coaches who have moved on to other opportunities and the OU program is doing its part to continue the development and promotion of softball inside and outside of Oklahoma's borders.

On the next page is a complete list of former Sooners who are currently working in the sport.

OU SOFTBALL® COMPLEX

HOME SWEET HOME

Marita Hynes Field at the OU Softball Complex has been one of the sparkling gems of the sport since it opened its doors in 1998.

OU was one of the first schools outside of the Pac 10 to make the commitment to its softball program by building an exclusive facility for the sport. The trend caught on and Oklahoma was again leading the pack in women's athletics as new stadiums have sprung up across the national landscape.

The most recent improvement at the OU Softball Complex was synthetic waterproof dirt on the infield and warning track, which allows Patty Gasso's team to train on the field minutes after a rain storm has moved through.

The complex provides permanent chair back and bleacher seating with a capacity of 1,000; a concessions building and rest rooms; press box; VIP lounge and a ticket office. The complex is equipped with a state-of-the-art underground drainage system, sprinkler system and batting cages.

A paved parking lot was in place in time for the 1999 season and OU added the Robert E. Young & Family Softball Locker Room in 2002. The field was named for former softball coach and senior woman administrator, Marita Hynes, in 2004.

The community of Norman has embraced the program and placed it among the annual national leaders in average attendance. Below are the top-10 single game attendance marks in OU Softball Complex history.

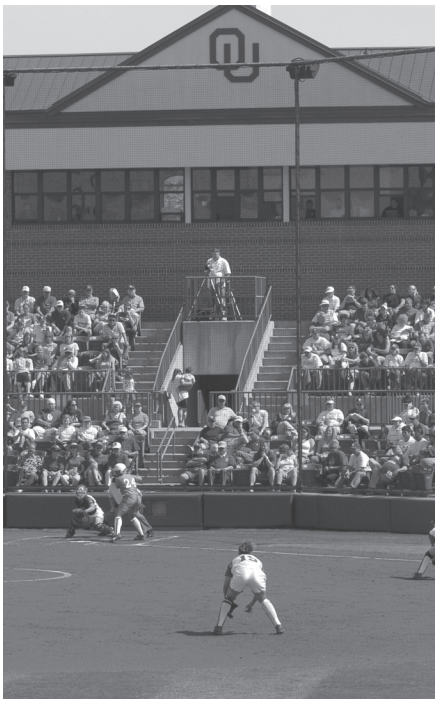
MARITA HYNES FIELD

It's a tough task to find a single individual who has had more effect on the collegiate sport of softball and its rise in popularity than Marita Hynes. The longtime senior woman administrator for Oklahoma actually served as the program's second softball coach. When she retired from coaching to begin a career as an administrator, she remained active in the softball world. She spearheaded the fund-raising campaign to build the OU Softball Complex and oversaw its construction. During those years, she helped lure the Women's College World Series to Oklahoma City. For all her contributions to OU and beyond, the athletics department officially christened the playing surface as Marita Hynes Field on April 24, 2004.



SOONER POWER

STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

Oklahoma's weight training program is a pioneer in the development of strength and conditioning, and is a vital part of the Sooners' traditional success. OU strength and conditioning coaches utilize their expertise along with a wide array of equipment and tests to produce national championship-caliber athletes.

Evaluation, goal-oriented programs, supervision and state-of-the-art facilities help Oklahoma athletes become bigger, faster, stronger and more flexible. The Robin Siegfried & Family Strength and Conditioning Complex, located in the Barry Switzer Center, has 13,000 square feet to facilitate the intensive training of OU athletes.

Jerry Schmidt, director of sports enhancement, says the Complex is a state-of-the-art facility where athletes work closely with five full-time staff members. "Oklahoma recognizes the importance of conditioning, "says Schmidt. "This facility is reflective of that commitment."

The objective of the strength and conditioning program is to ensure each student athlete in every sport is provided with a sound in-season and off-season program. This program of activity includes strength, conditioning, flexibility and nutrition. A strength and conditioning coordinator for each sport is provided to assist athletes in reaching the highest possible training levels.

The OU strength and conditioning staff takes great pride in providing a very intensive program that helps maintain greater overall body strength and conditioning levels during the season. By maintaining strength in the muscles and connective tissues throughout the season, the potential for injuries decreases.

The off-season program is also extremely intensive. Speed, strength, power, agility, fundamentals and nutrition are addressed. The OU staff is committed to full compliance with NCAA rules concerning time allocation for student athletes and voluntary workouts during off-season periods. In addition, the OU softball team participates in an annual triathlon on the Norman campus where each girl swims, bikes and runs to the finish line in the yearly competition.

The staff's interaction with the nutritional consultants on campus is essential. The staff maintains an open channel of communication with the dining staff at the Jefferson Dining Hall. This interaction enables the strength and conditioning staff to ensure that OU athletes receive a winning edge with a sound nutrition program.

"Our goal is to get the student-athletes in their best condition," says Schmidt. "That condition will give Oklahoma an edge at the end of a game. Top of the line conditioning is what it takes to be a Sooner athlete. Running, lifting and good nutrition must be kept in a balance."

Located at the south end of Oklahoma Memorial Stadium, the Barry Switzer Center houses administrative offices, the football locker room, the equipment room, the 8,000-square-foot Sports Medicine Facility and the 7,000-square-foot Touchdown Club Legends Lobby in addition to the Siegfried Strength and Conditioning Complex.

SPORTS MEDICINE

The Oklahoma Athletics Department feels a strong responsibility to help its athletes reach and maintain their optimum health and achieve conditioning goals. For this reason, OU has developed excellent training and conditioning programs to lessen the possibility of injuries. However, should injuries occur, the department is committed to a comprehensive rehabilitation program.

Complete athletically-related medical services are provided to Oklahoma student athletes by team physicians and OU's certified athletic trainers. The University of Oklahoma obtains the services of the best medical consultants available.

The base of operation for the Sooners' medical care is the state-of-the-art Henry J. Freede, M.D. Sports Medicine Center in the Barry Switzer Center.

Head athletic trainer Scott Anderson says the new addition to the Barry Switzer Center has allowed the university to upgrade to a new edition of rehabilitation equipment that can best benefit the student-athletes.

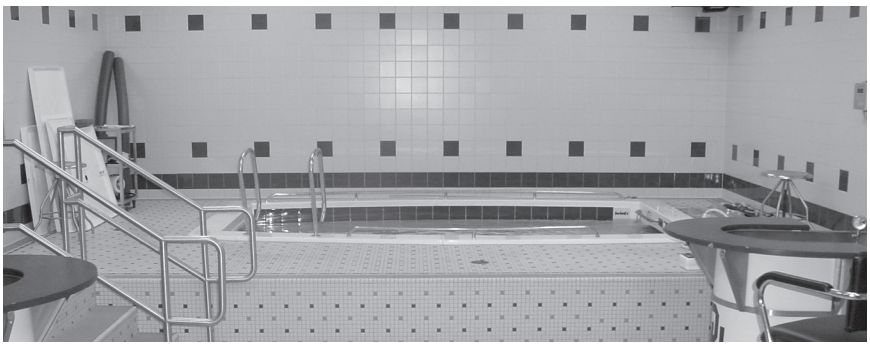
From simple therobands to taping tables, the new facility offers everything a school can have or hope to have. The Sooner training room is equipped to perform isokinetic joint evaluation for preventive medicine and for post-injury rehabilitation. The therapy room is supplied with the latest modalities on the market.

"The addition of space is the greatest benefit," says Anderson. "This space allows for dedicated rehabilitation and consultation to the athletes. A new option with the facility is the water rehabilitation area. The athlete stands in a pool of water that is adjusted to his or her own physical needs. Cameras are then placed where physicians can monitor the progress made by the athlete on his or her road to recovery."

A total team effort is the key to OU's efficiency in preventing, treating and rehabilitating injuries sustained by student-athletes. These measures keep Sooner athletes at their highest level of performance as they compete for championships.

"Sports medicine is a team effort," says Anderson. "The stated goal of athletic training at Oklahoma is, first of all, care for the student-athletes, thereby granting our sports a competitive advantage and ultimately greater esteem for the entire program.

To that end we are blessed with a full complement of self-sacrificing medical professionals working on a regular basis with our athletic training staff."



NORMAN

AROUND TOWN

Norman is an ever-changing city of nearly 90,000 residents. Located in the heart of the state, it has grown to become the third largest city in Oklahoma. Despite its continuous growth, it has maintained the spirit and serenity of a small close-knit community.

Since the Oklahoma Land Rush of 1889, Norman has grown into a popular and smart city. The spirit of Norman and its citizens is unwavering and uncompromising. While other towns were clamoring to become the state capital, Norman residents wanted to have the first state university. When the first OU president got off the train and saw a prairie, he saw opportunity.

As home to the state's premier educational institution, Norman boasts an excellent quality of life and is a city that thrives on and celebrates the diversity of its community.

Legendary University of Oklahoma football coach Barry Switzer called Norman "a university town with a championship spirit." Norman continually exhibits its love for sports by hosting numerous local and national athletic events.

Cultural activities are unlimited in Norman, making it the ideal backdrop for the University of Oklahoma. As home to people of all ethnic and educational backgrounds, the city has something to offer everyone.

The $44 million Sam Noble Oklahoma Museum of Natural History, a state-of-the-art facility designed to display a collection of historical and natural science items that trace the southwest's development since prehistoric times, opened in May 2000. History buffs will also enjoy the Cleveland Country Historical House which holds exhibits relating to the development of this area of the state.

For art enthusiasts, the Fred Jones Jr. Memorial Art Center houses permanent collections, nationally and world-renowned traveling exhibits as well as a yearly student art show. The museum has recently added the Weitzenhoffer Collection of French Impressionist paintings -- the single most important gift of art ever given to a U.S. public university.

Multi-screen theaters in Norman offer a wide range of movie options. Community theater and dance performances continue to be a favorite in Norman with productions by several groups. With the Cimarron Circuit Opera Company and the annual Jazz in June celebration, Norman also offers a great opportunity to hear a variety of musical artists on almost any night of the week.

Maintaining a progressive approach to the future while remembering its history, Norman continues to be a well-balanced community, proud to be the home of the University of Oklahoma.

OKLAHOMA CITY

THE CAPITAL

Oklahoma City, the capital of Oklahoma, is located just 18 miles north of the Norman campus. It was the first city settled in the Land Run of 1889 because of its position at the center of the state.

Oklahoma City offers a variety of attractions and activities different from any other place in the country.

Just over a century ago, the site of Oklahoma City was a grass-and-timbered land of gently rolling hills flattening out into prairie in the west. Today, Oklahoma City sprawls across 625 square miles of America's heartland. The city's metro population numbers more than a million -- a third of the entire state's population.

Oklahoma City was born on the afternoon of April 22, 1889, when the central portion of what is now Oklahoma was opened to settlement by presidential proclamation. Thousands crossed the borders of "unassigned lands" at the sound of gunfire at high noon. Never before or since has such a "run" occurred anywhere on the earth.

By the time the dust had settled on that historic day, many people had staked their claim at "Oklahoma Station," an area which was destined to become Oklahoma City. In 1911, Oklahoma City officially became the capital after a statewide election moved the state seal from Guthrie.

Oklahoma City has become a haven for exciting sports action. It is home of one professional team, two semi-professional sports teams and the host of the NCAA College Softball World Series and Big 12 Softball Championship. The NBA's Hornets relocated to OKC in September of 2005 and will play the majority of their 2005-06 schedule at the Ford Center.The Oklahoma RedHawks are the Triple-A baseball affiliate of the Texas Rangers. The team plays in the 13,066-seat SBC Bricktown Ballpark, one of the plushest venues in all of minor league sports.

2006 OUTLOOK

WHAT TO LOOK FOR IN 2006

Head Coach Patty Gasso returns for her 12th season after guiding the Sooners to a National Championship, three Big 12 titles, two Big 12 Tournament titles and five Women's College World Series appearances during her tenure.

The goals have not changed in 2006. The preseason aspirations remain the same: win the Big 12, host and win a regional and super regional and return to the World Series to claim a National Championship.

While the goals have not changed, the faces of this year's team have. The Sooners have a tough challenge in replacing the graduating foursome of Christina Enea, Kami Keiter, Jessica Leslie and Heather Scaglione who combined for a total of 11 All-Big 12, seven All-Midwest Region and four All-America honors during their careers. It could be considered one of the most accomplished classes in OU softball history.

In fact, it has not been since those four players were freshmen that the Sooners have had to rely on such a young group as they will in 2006.

Headlining this year's squad will be returning All-Americans Norrelle Dickson and Kristin Vesely and returning starters Jamie Fox and Savannah Long. The rest of the lineup will feature freshmen and sophomores who will be called upon to take on new roles and play immediately for the Sooners.

"I have been so encouraged by the work habit and potential of our freshmen," Gasso said. "Yes, we have a lot of unanswered questions about our new group but there is something very exciting about that as well.

"The biggest challenge of this season is going to be patience with this youthful group we have. It is going to require leadership from our returnees to train these freshmen along the way. Once they come along, I'm really excited about the opportunities and possibilities that this team is going to have this season."

PROJECTED LINEUP

All-Americans Kristin Vesely and Norrelle Dickson return as the offensive sparks to the Sooner lineup. Interchangeable at the one and two slots, the lefties bring speed and experience to a youthful lineup.

Vesely took home the Big 12 batting title in 2005 after hitting .451, which set an OU single season record and ranked sixth in the NCAA.

As a sophomore last season, Dickson hit .455 in the NCAA Regional and combined with Vesely to score five of OU's 10 runs en route to the Sooners' Regional 14 Championship.

After seeking a redshirt year last season, Mariee Mena's powerful bat returns. The junior will bring her line drive hitting and power to a possible third spot in the lineup. In 2004, Mena hit at an impressive .429 clip in the WCWS.

"Mariee will be in the lineup for us in some way, shape or form," Gasso said. "Her offense brings so much to our club that we must have her bat in the lineup for us."

Jamie Fox will also be considered near the top of the lineup with the offensive force the right fielder brings to the plate. Fox improved her batting average to .306 as a sophomore and produced more RBI last season (44) than any current Sooner.

Also competing for time in the heart of the lineup is sophomore Savannah Long who had a tremendous fall, leading the team in home runs, RBI and total bases.

Another option in the four or five slot remains with catchers Susan Ogden, a sophomore, and Samantha Ricketts, a freshman. Both bring a lot of power to the plate.

The latter part of the lineup remains a question mark going into the season with the young squad.

Jessica Legendre will be one of six freshmen expected to contribute in 2006.

"Our freshman infielders will make up the bottom part of the order, but don't let that fool you," Gasso said. "They have really strong swings and can hit the ball extremely hard. We just want to give them time to figure it out."

Rounding out the Sooner lineup is the possibility of Amber Spaulding. The junior outfielder brings incredible speed. Spaulding has made tremendous improvement in the offseason and has added power to her hitting, which could move her up in the lineup.

"It's going to be really fun at the beginning of the season," Gasso said. "That's when we're really going to figure out who is going to step forward and whose bat we can rely upon in the lineup."

THE INFIELD

The Oklahoma infield will have a new look this season with the addition of the freshmen class to the familiar faces who will take on new roles in 2006.

Anchoring down the left side of the infield will be freshmen Traci Dickenson and Jessica Legendre. Dickenson, also a standout soccer player for the Sooners, brings athleticism, toughness and quickness to third base. The 5-4 right-hander throws great on the run and is showing incredible promise at that position. In addition, Dickenson could see time at second base as well.

Although only a freshman, Legendre is extremely smooth at the shortstop position. She makes fielding look easy with her solid arm and athletic ability.

"I know that these two have the right attitude to play on the left side of the field, " Gasso said. "The biggest challenge will be their inexperience but the more opportunities they get to play, the better players they will become."

Veteran junior Stacia Aleman will likely be the staple of the infield at second base. Aleman brings the most experience to the infield and has made tremendous strides in the last year, improving her consistency and confidence.

Sophomore Savannah Long is making the move to the right side of the infield, after seeing a majority of time at shortstop in 2005. The 5-8 right-hander has a flame throwing arm and has a great ability to turn double plays at second base. Long seems a natural at second base, but will could also see time at first base where her height and strong arm creates a strong advantage for the Sooners. Whether it's at second or first, Long will definitely be seeing time on the right side of the field this season.

Also vying for time at first base is junior Mariee Mena. Prior to redshirting last season, Mena was a solid outfielder for the Sooners, but has shown her versatility with her solid play at first base this fall.

"I feel confident with Mariee's defensive ability at first base," Gasso said.

The biggest battle of the infield will be at the catcher position. Sophomore Susan Ogden and freshman Samantha Ricketts have the tough task of replacing two-time All-American Heather Scaglione.

While Ogden benefitted from being Scaglione's backup in 2005, Ricketts brings a stronger arm to the plate. Both are capable of getting the job done in a game.

"The catcher position is not just about defense, but about being the field sergeant and having a good sense of the game," Gasso said. "Both will have to learn how to handle this role. It's such a great battle that it could come down to who is producing the most offensively. They both played extremely well in the fall and I'm excited about the possibilities at this position."

THE OUTFIELD

While the infield has a variety of new faces this season, the outfield will be the core of experience for the Sooners. Junior right fielder Jamie Fox and senior right fielder Kristin Vesely bring veteran leadership to the outfield where both combined for only four errors last season.

Vesely will be the captain directing the outfield this season. As a three-year starter in centerfield, the lefty has exceptional speed and incredible range.

Fox had an exceptional season in right field last year after making the switch from third base. The junior came up with clutch plays last season and only tallied one error in right field.

Also seeking time in right field is Amber Spaulding. The junior has battled a vision problem since childhood, but spent the offseason working with a vision specialist which has resulted in improvement in all aspects of her game. Her speed and quickness work well in the outfield.

"The improvements in her game are unbelievable," Gasso said. "It shows in the way she is hitting her targets in the field and the way she is swinging the bat."

Taking the left field spot this season is junior Norrelle Dickson. The former third baseman made the switch to left field this fall and has made incredible strides at the position. Dickson is able to use her blazing speed in the outfield and is able to roam more freely at her new position.

"The outfield is still something very new to Norrelle, but she has handled it well," Gasso commented. "She can get to balls you wouldn't expect outfielders to get to because she uses her speed and acceleration. She still has work to do, but she is a good enough athlete that she can play the position."

Providing a backup role at all three positions will be junior outfielder Jade Prather and freshman utility player Jeannie Douglas.

IN THE CIRCLE

The biggest impact on the on the Sooners this season will be the production from the circle. With the graduation of three-year starter and four-time All-Big 12 performer Kami Keiter, there are plenty of question marks entering the 2006 season. However, Oklahoma's biggest weakness entering the season could be its strongest link by the end of the year with a five-member pitching staff.

The veteran and leader of the group is senior Nicole Denes. The 5-11 right-hander made a tremendous comeback in 2005. After being sidelined for 30 games of her sophomore season due to heart surgery for a heart arrhythmia, Denes finished with an 8-1 mark as the third option on the OU staff in 2005.

"I'm really rooting for Nicole to have a great season," Gasso said. "She has overcome so much adversity and has gained so much respect from her teammates in the process. She has really worked hard to get back to where she was."

Sophomores Stacy Braddock and Jadyn Smith will also be vying for time in the circle. Braddock, a 6-1 right-handed hurler, is an intimidating force in the circle and has great leverage on her rise ball because of her height. In addition, her off speed pitches, combined with her methodical delivery, provide a tough match up for any hitter.

Smith also returns with a year of maturity in the OU system. The feisty right-handed pitcher was the surprise contributor last season and was often thought of as the No. 1 pitcher at times this past fall. She became a spark plug that the defense loves playing behind and also provides a variety of pitches that will keep hitters off balance.

Also providing competition and depth to the staff are freshmen D.J. Mathis and Morgan Hudsonpillar.

Mathis shined in the fall in individual practices and brings a blue collar work ethic to the staff. The coaching staff is extremely encouraged by the strides Mathis has made in only a few months with the program. The lone left-handed pitcher on the squad has an arsenal of pitches as well as an expanded zone that allows her success in the circle.

After taking the fall off, Hudsonpillar has shown increased maturity in her game and has not missed a beat. The 5-11 right-hander has improved her strength and provides a variety of pitches, including an outstanding change up and flip change.

"While we have a lot of unanswered questions, we also know that these five have incredible potential," Gasso said. "The best thing about all of them is that they bring a variety of pitches in the circle and each one of them complements the others so well. Right now they are our best kept secret!"

MEDIA INFORMATION

COVERING PRACTICE

All practices will be open to the public. The Sooners will regularly practice at the OU Softball Complex. If inclement weather occurs they will practice at the Mosier Indoor Facility. Members of the media are asked to inform the media relations office when they will be attending practice. All those attending practice are asked to stay off the field.

CREDENTIAL REQUESTS

Media credentials for University of Oklahoma home games and contests at Don E. Porter Hall of Fame Stadium in Oklahoma City should be requested one week prior to the event. Space is limited in the press box at the Oklahoma Softball Complex and credentials will be given on a first-come, first-served basis.

Requests should be made to:

BIG 12 TOURNAMENT & WOMEN'S COLLEGE WORLD SERIES

The University of Oklahoma will be hosting the 2006 Big 12 Softball Championship and the Women's College World Series. Both tournaments will be held at Don E. Porter Hall of Fame Stadium in Oklahoma City. For score updates, you may call the press box at (405) 425-3466.

Credential requests for these events should be made immediately. The University of Oklahoma follows the guidelines set forth by the NCAA and the Big 12 Conference in the issuance of credentials. All requests for credentials should be made to the attention of Mike Houck (see contact information to the right) at in the Oklahoma Athletics Media Relations office.

TELEPHONE AVAILABILITY

Telephone lines can be ordered for the OU Softball Complex press box any time before or during the season by calling the OU Telecommunications Office at (405) 325-1873. For games in Oklahoma City at Don E. Porter Hall of Fame Stadium, access to phones is also limited. Media should contact Southwestern Bell at (800) 640-7250 to arrange their own lines.

GAME DAY MEDIA SERVICES

Weekly OU and Big 12 media releases are provided to media covering home softball games prior to the first pitch. The Oklahoma media relations staff uses The Automated Scorebook to provide box scores and play-by-play immediately following the completion of each game. After a brief 10 minute cooling-off period following the game, all coaches and players will be available for interviews. The media relations staff will also provide a game summary which will be faxed to all local media and those outlets that request it.

INTERVIEWING COACH GASSO

Media members wishing to interview Head Coach Patty Gasso may call her directly at (405) 325-8371. Coach Gasso is generally available for interviews weekday mornings and early afternoons prior to practice.

INTERVIEWING STUDENT-ATHLETES

Interviews with the University of Oklahoma softball players must be arranged through Jessica Summers of the OU Athletics Media Relations Office and requested at least 24 hours in advance. Please call Summers at (405) 325-8372.

- Member of Inaugural Class of Long Beach City Baseball and Softball Hall of Fame

As she begins her 12th season at the University of Oklahoma, head coach Patty Gasso has molded the OU softball program into a national power and permanently placed herself among the elite college softball coaches in the country.

The Sooners have reached the Women's College World Series in five of the last six years and in the process have extended their NCAA postseason streak to 12, 11 of which have come under Gasso. The WCWS run began in 2000 when her team won the NCAA National Championship in OU's first appearance.

Gasso holds an overall record of 544-179-1 (.752) at the University of Oklahoma. After claiming her 500th career win at OU last season, she continues to distance herself from her counterparts in the Big 12 and her predecessors at OU. She has won more Big 12 games (134-41) than any coach in the league's history and has nearly doubled up every other coach who ever led the Sooners.

Is she the best coach in the history of Oklahoma softball? Undoubtedly. Is she the greatest coach in Big 12 history? The stats say she is. Could she be one of the best coaches to ever coach college softball? Each season she continues to build what is a very strong argument.

Currently in her 16th season as a head coach, Gasso has a career collegiate coaching record of 706-238-1 (.747).

Gasso's Sooner teams have finished lower than second in the conference only twice since the inception of the Big 12 in 1996. They have won 77 percent of their Big 12 contests and OU has claimed three Big 12 regular season and two tournament titles under her direction.

Numerous Sooner players have prospered under Gasso's tutelage and garnered national, regional and conference recognition. She has directed 21 All-Americans, 40 All-Midwest Region honorees and 75 all-conference selections. In the Big 12 era, four Sooners have been named Big 12 Player of the Year, two have been selected as Big 12 Freshman of the Year and one as Big 12 Newcomer. In addition, 2005 graduate Heather Scaglione was a two-time Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year.

The OU softball success under Gasso has also spilled over into the classroom where 59 individuals have earned academic all-conference recognition and five of those have gone on to become Academic All-Americans, including Lana Moran, the 2000 Academic All-American of the Year.

Gasso and her staff have consistently been recognized for their efforts on and off the field. The staff was awarded three consecutive Speedline/NFCA Midwest Region Coaching Staff of the Year awards from 1999-2001, while also receiving the national honor in 2000. Gasso and staff have claimed the Midwest honor in five of their 11 seasons with the most recent award coming in 2004. In addition, Gasso has been named the Big 12 and Midwest Region Coach of the Year in 1996, 1999 and 2000.

Gasso's career with the Sooners began in 1995 when she arrived at OU after five successful years at Long Beach City College. Her accomplishments during her tenure at LBCC and since led to Gasso being named to the LBCC Hall of Champions in 2004.

Later during the 2004 summer, Gasso was inducted into the inaugural class of the Long Beach City Baseball and Softball Hall of Fame. Her beginnings in her hometown of Long Beach set the foundation for a spectacular career in Norman.

In her first season at the helm, the Sooners recorded a 43-23 record, finished second in the conference and reached the regional final. Several Sooners received awards for their play during the 1995 season, including 11 players who garnered all-conference accolades (four on the first team).

The Sooners also received national recognition for their stellar play as Brea Moore led a trio of players named to the All-Midwest Region team. Moore also earned NFCA All-America honors for her 23-7 record and 226 strikeouts. OU's players also excelled off the field during the 1995 season. Eight players earned academic all-conference honors, and four of them were selected to the first team. Jennifer Sherman led the way in the classroom for the softball squad, netting GTE CoSIDA Academic All-America honors.

Gasso and the Sooners reached new heights in 1996, recording a 50-20 record, a first-ever Big 12 Championship, and another regional final berth. OU dominated the inaugural Big 12 Tournament, putting five players on the all-tournament squad. Pitcher Jill Most was named the tourney MVP. Gasso's 1996 squad also became the first team outside of the states of California or Arizona to win the prestigious Pony Tournament.

Gasso was recognized by her peers for her team's performance, earning the Big 12 Coach-of-the-Year award. Again, Sooner players were mentioned as some of the league's best with 10 players receiving All-Big 12 recognition. Leading the way was Most, a junior from Tulsa, Okla., Most garnered Big 12 Conference Co-MVP honors for her 29-12 record and 356 strikeouts. Most was one of two players (Casey Dickson) to earn conference player-of-the-week recognition, receiving the award four times. She was also one of three players to be selected to the All-Midwest Region squad and was named an NFCA All-American. Gasso has always stressed success in the classroom and 1996 was no exception as three players earned Academic All-Big 12 status.

Gasso continued the trend of reaching new heights in 1997 when the team recorded the second best record in school history (55-19). The season was highlighted by two impressive 12-game winning streaks that helped the team to a second-place finish in the Big 12. For the fourth consecutive year, OU advanced to a NCAA regional. It marked the first time in school history that OU hosted the event.

Oklahoma again made its presence felt among the nation's elite, with six players earning All-Big 12 honors and four players making the All-Midwest Region team. Most became the first player in school history to earn back-to-back NFCA All-America honors. Another first was achieved when two Sooners were named GTE CoSIDA Academic All-Americans in the same year.

The 1998 season was probably one of the best in OU softball history. However, it wasn't because of the number of wins and losses or the tournaments won by the Sooners. It was due to the fact the team featured six freshmen.

Gasso led the young group to a 49-15 record, a second-place conference finish and a No. 1 seed in a NCAA Regional. Five Sooners were named to the all-conference squad and three players were named to the All-Midwest Region team. Sophomore Lana Moran responded to being named Oklahoma's No. 1 pitcher by recording a 23-9 mark and 157 strikeouts. For her efforts, Moran was selected as an NFCA All-American. She was also named a GTE Academic All-American, making her what is believed to be only the third female athlete in OU history to accomplish both feats in the same season.

The Sooners registered their share of huge victories in 1998, including a win over No. 1-ranked Arizona, and three wins over eventual national champion Fresno State.

In 1999, Gasso led OU to its sixth straight NCAA regional playoff appearance and her team continued to demonstrate that she is one of the top coaches in the country. Along the path to the regional playoffs in Baton Rouge, La., the Sooners seized several awards and honors.

For the second time in the four-year history of the Big 12 Conference, OU was crowned regular season champion. The Sooners, who finished with a 40-16 overall record, won the Big 12 with an 11-3 record. Oklahoma fell just short of its goal, the Women's College World Series, but the Sooners proved once again that they were a national powerhouse.

That year, OU defeated several top-25 teams including Louisiana State, Texas, Massachusetts, Oregon, Texas A&M, Missouri and Nebraska.

Not only were Gasso's players honored for their accomplishments in 1999, but she was also recognized for her solid coaching effort. Gasso was named the 1999 Big 12 Coach of the Year, and she, along with assistants Melyssa Panzer and Tim Walton, were named the Midwest Regional Coaching Staff of the Year.

In addition, the Sooners swept the four-game series with state rival Oklahoma State, clinching the Big 12 title in the regular season finale.

Under Gasso's direction, several players were honored for their individual achievements. Senior first baseman Lynette Velazquez became the first OU softball player to be named a first team All-American. The left-handed power hitter was also named Big 12 Conference Player of the Year. Sophomore shortstop Lisa Carey, who was named to the All-Big 12 first team, also made the All-America list as a third teamer. Left-handed pitcher Jennifer Stewart was named Big 12 Freshman of the Year and was placed on the All-Big 12 first team. Velazquez, Carey and Stewart were named to the All-Midwest Region first team, while catcher Ashli Barrett and freshman outfielder Christy Ring were named to the All-Midwest Region second team. Four Sooner players (Velazquez, Carey, Stewart and Barrett) were selected to the All-Big 12 first team and two (Ring and Deborah Hargrave) were named to the All-Big 12 second team.

The 2000 Sooners won their third Big 12 regular season title since the league began in 1996 and hosted their first NCAA Regional since 1997. Behind an explosive offense and a dominant defense, the Sooners rolled to a 66-8 record and won their final eight games of the season to capture the first softball national championship in school history.

Four Sooners earned All-America honors, with Carey and Barrett earning first team recognition. Outfielder Erin Evans and pitcher Stewart were both third team All-Americans and Stewart was named the Most Outstanding Player of the WCWS.

The accolades rolled in as Gasso was named the Dallas Morning News Big 12 Coach of the Year. She and her staff also earned the Midwest Region Coach of the Year award and Speedline/NFCA Division I National Coaching Staff of the Year.

Following the 2000 National Championship season, Gasso's 2001 squad continued the string of success. The 2001 team went on to match many of the accomplishments of the previous year, including a return trip to the Women's College World Series, a 50-win season and four All-America selections. The team also established its own successes by compiling a school-record 23-game win streak and the program's first Big 12 Tournament title since 1996.

In 2002, Oklahoma went 49-16 and 14-2 in the Big 12. Taking their team motto "Triple Threat" to heart, the Sooners swept their third consecutive NCAA Regional and advanced to a third straight Women's College World Series.

The 2003 squad was led by five seniors and sophomore hurler Kami Keiter. OU reached its fourth consecutive WCWS by becoming the first Sooner squad to claim a regional championship away from Norman. OU ended the season with a 47-14 record and won one game before being eliminated from the 2003 WCWS.

Five Sooners were named to the All-Big 12 Conference first team, including senior Leah Gulla, who led the conference in batting average, hits and RBI. Underclassmen Keiter, Heather Scaglione and Kristin Vesely joined senior Evans on the all-conference team. The NFCA bestowed All-America honors on Keiter and Gulla, while Evans joined the duo on the Midwest All-Region Team.

The OU program reached a couple of milestones during the 2003 season. The program recorded its 1,000th victory when the Sooners knocked off Bethune-Cookman in its regional opener on May 15. Justifying its nickname, the Sooners also became the first Big 12 team to reach the 100-win mark in conference play. OU beat Nebraska, 1-0, in Lincoln on March 20, 2003, to be the first Big 12 squad to reach the century mark.

The 2004 season went down as one of the most memorable in Sooner history. OU battled through injuries during the entire regular season and peaked at the right time. OU, seeded second in the NCAA Region I Championship, stormed through Tucson, Ariz., knocking off No. 1 Arizona and No. 9 Louisiana-Lafayette en route to the Sooners' fifth consecutive WCWS. The Sooners entered the WCWS as the hottest hitting team in the postseason and held onto that claim, despite being eliminated after winning their opener against Washington.

Junior catcher Heather Scaglione was the Big 12's most feared hitter and player, which helped her garner first team Big 12, Midwest Region and All-America honors to go along with the first-ever Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year award. Christina Enea, Kami Keiter, Mariee Mena, Norrelle Dickson and Kristin Vesely also earned conference and regional honors of their own.

Gasso's staff was recognized for a fifth time as the NFCA Midwest Region Coaching Staff of the Year, thanks to one of the most memorable postseason runs in NCAA history.

In 2005, the Sooners made their 11th straight NCAA postseason appearance under Gasso and claimed the Regional 14 Championship in front of the home crowd in Norman. Despite missing out on its sixth straight WCWS appearance after dropping a best-of-three series to Arizona in the NCAA Super Regional, the Sooners were one of the best hitting teams in program history (fourth in the nation with a .320 batting average).

The highlight of the season was OU's record 29-game winning streak that spanned 36 days and was extended during play in five different states. The Sooners outscored opponents 218-40, run-ruled 10 opponents and claimed five tourney championships during the streak.

The 2005 season saw the graduation of a four-player senior class that tallied 11 All-Big 12, seven All-Midwest Region and four All-America honors during their careers. However, Oklahoma returns All-Americans Kristin Vesely and Norelle Dickson who were responsible for 31 percent of the Sooner runs in 2005. In addition, Vesely topped the Big 12 with an OU record .451 batting average which ranked sixth among all NCAA players.

Gasso began her softball career as a player at Long Beach State. She describes herself as a speedy, strong armed infielder who had an above average bat.

Gasso and her husband, Jim, reside in Norman with their oldest son, J.T., who is 17 and plays football and baseball for a local high school. The youngest son, D.J., is 11 and an avid baseball and basketball player.

NINTH SEASON, OKLAHOMA, 1997

ASSISTANT COACH
MELYSSA LOMBARDI

As a catcher for Oklahoma in 1995-1996, Melyssa Lombardi helped direct the Sooner pitchers to new heights. Now in her ninth season as a full-time assistant coach, Lombardi continues to guide the Sooner pitchers and catchers to even greater accomplishments.

"Melyssa was a catcher here and she had good leadership behind the plate," said head coach Patty Gasso of her assistant.

"She has really good knowledge of the pitchers and handles them well. I think she doesn't get the credit she deserved in calling those games from the dugout at the World Series. She had a game plan, called every pitch and it was tremendous. I attribute a lot of our success on the mound and behind the plate to what she's been doing."

Drawing from her playing days as a catcher for the Sooners, Lombardi has been able to lend her valuable experiences in tutoring the Oklahoma catchers and pitchers. In eight years of instructing the Sooner battery, she has guided several players to numerous accolades including All-America, all-conference and all-region honors.

In 2004 Lombardi may have had her biggest challenge since joining the OU staff. The pitching coach had to hold together a staff that was missing its No. 1 and No. 2 pitcher for a combined total of 51 games. Despite the shortage of arms, the Sooners were the third best staff (in terms of ERA) in the Big 12. Lombardi's protege Kami Keiter turned it up another notch during the postseason when she garnered All-Big 12 Tournament and Region I Championship MVP honors.

In 2003 Lombardi guided Keiter out of the shadows of Sooner great Jennifer Stewart and into stardom. In just her second collegiate season, Keiter led the Big 12 in wins (47) and was ranked in the NCAA top 15 in two pitching categories. The Sooner pitching staff combined for an ERA of 1.40, which ranked as the 18th best in the NCAA.

In her first year on the coaching staff as a student assistant in 1997, the OU pitching staff produced one of the lowest earned run averages in school history and in the country. The staff finished with a 1.14 ERA to rank seventh in the nation.

The Sooners' pitching performances continued to rank among the nation's elite in 1998 and 1999 and the Sooners' improvement culminated in 2000 with a national championship.

In the national championship season, the team registered a 1.44 ERA which was second in the Big 12 and ranked 25th nationally. The staff posted 24 shutouts and its best strikeout total in three years with 301. Lombardi helped guide the 1-2 punch of Lana Moran and Jennifer Stewart that year. Moran went 26-2 and led the Big 12 with a 1.28 ERA. Stewart was a third team All-America selection and the MVP of the Women's College World Series. Lombardi also helped catcher Ashli Barrett reach new heights as the junior was named a first team All-American.

The Glendale, Ariz., native ended her two-year playing career with the Sooners with a spectacular senior season in 1996. Her team-leading .345 batting average was a key factor during OU's Big 12 Conference Championship run that year.

She was also instrumental in helping Jill Most and Jennifer Jaime record two of the best pitching seasons in school history. Lombardi caught all three of Most's wins in OU's conference tournament games and was named to the all-tournament team after going 3-for-8 (.375) at the plate with four RBI, two runs scored, a triple and a stolen base.

Lombardi graduated from OU in 1997 with a degree in health and sports science. The former Melyssa Panzer married John Lombardi on Nov. 10, 2000, and the couple currently resides in Norman.

FOURTH SEASON, MCNEESE STATE, 1997

ASSISTANT COACH
HOWARD DOBSON

Howard Dobson enters his fourth season as an assistant coach for the Oklahoma softball program and has been instrumental in maintaining Oklahoma's national reputation as an offensive force.

Since his arrival in 2003, the Sooners have been one of the top two teams in the conference in hitting percentage and have topped the conference every season in scoring. In addition, Dobson has coached five players to All-America honors and worked with 11 NFCA All-Midwest Region performers and 15 All-Big 12 players during his three-year stint with the OU softball program.

Last season, Dobson had his best season since joining the program. The Sooners finished fourth in the nation in batting average with a .320 mark while leading the Big 12 in RBI (339) and hits (568). Dobson was influential in the making of 2005 All-American Kristin Vesely, one of three to earn All-America honors last season. Vesely the 2005 season as the league's top hitter with a .451 batting average (sixth in the nation).

It was much of the same in 2004 as the Sooners were the top hitting team in the conference and Dobson helped guide Heather Scaglione to national prominence and the first of two All-America honors. Scaglione was hands down the most feared hitter in the Big 12 while claiming seven batting titles.

His one season with 2003 graduate Leah Gulla turned the all-conference talent into a first team All-American and the Big 12's leading hitter.

Prior to Oklahoma, the Orange, Texas, native helped start up Houston's softball program in 2000. In the program's first year, Dobson helped guide the team to a fifth place finish in Conference USA. The 2002 team led the league in hits (480), runs scored (279), slugging percentage (.448), RBI (244) and home runs (47), narrowly missing the conference record of 49. During his two years at Houston, Dobson coached 10 all-conference honorees, including the 2002 Conference USA Freshman of the Year.

Dobson served as an assistant at Southeastern Louisiana for two seasons before joining the Houston staff. With his help, two Lady Lions garnered all-region accolades.

Dobson began his softball coaching career at McNeese State as a volunteer assistant coach. At McNeese State, he worked with the Southland Conference's 1999 Hitter of the Year.

He previously gained softball coaching experience as an assistant coach at Barbe High School in Louisiana where he led the team to the state 5A title and directed one of its players to Miss Softball Louisiana honors. While at Barbe, seven of his players went on to compete at the Division I level including nationally renowned programs Louisiana State and DePaul.

Dobson has also gained valuable experience working at collegiate skills camps during the summer and coaching on the international level. In the summer of 1999, his international team won the German Open with one of its players named tournament MVP.

A former all-conference performer at Panola Junior College, Dobson went on to finish his collegiate baseball career at McNeese State where he graduated with a degree in health and human performance and English in 1997.

Dobson and his wife, Katharine, reside in Norman. The couple had their first child, Tripp, who was born on May 17, 2005

FIFTH SEASON, TEXAS WOMAN'S UNIVERSITY, 2001

DIRECTOR OF OPERATIONS
NICKIE ENGELBRECHT

Nickie Engelbrecht begins her fifth season on the Oklahoma softball staff. Engelbrecht joined the staff after a very successful career at Texas Woman's University. For the third consecutive season, Engelbrecht will fulfill the role of Director of Operations, a position that OU head coach Patty Gasso created to keep the South Africa native on her staff.

"Nickie has great work habits and a burning desire to work in big time sports," Gasso says. "What I like about her is that she knows she has to start at the bottom and work her way up. She is an integral part of our program and her work behind the scenes is absolutely priceless."

Engelbrecht was a two-time All-American as a Pioneer and was the Lone Star Conference Player of the Year as a senior while earning all-conference and all-region accolades.

Engelbrecht set or tied 32 team records over her four-year career. Playing at shortstop, she led the conference in stolen bases with 17 as a senior. She was named to the NCAA Division II South Central Regional first team. Engelbrecht led the Pioneers with a batting average of .362 while tallying 13 RBI and five home runs and earning a fielding percentage of .953 in her final season.

Engelbrecht not only excelled on the field but in the classroom as well. She was an academic all-conference team member, a Verizon Academic All-America third team member and a two-time GTE Academic All-America District IV team member.

After graduating from Alberton High School in 1994, Engelbrecht attended a business school in Alberton for one year while playing for the South African senior softball team. She carried the second highest batting average (.480) and was a utility player on the South African team in Olympic qualifying competition in Holland in 1995. She ranked sixth in batting in that tournament (.423) and was named to the all-star team. She also represented South Africa in the African Cup in Zimbabwe as a utility player in 1995.

Born on Oct. 16, 1976, in Johannesburg, South Africa, Engelbrecht earned a bachelor's degre in kinesiology while at Texas Woman's University. After graduating from TWU in 2001, she was awarded one of the few NCAA Postgraduate Scholarships. Engelbrecht graduated with a master's degree in human relations from OU in the summer of 2004.

FIRST SEASON, CENTENARY COLLEGE OF LOUISIANA, 2005

GRADUATE ASSISTANT MANAGER
CRAIG SNIDER

Craig Snider is the latest addition to the Oklahoma softball coaching staff. Snider begins his first season as a graduate assistant manager after serving a two-year stint (2004-2005) as a student assistant softball coach at his alma mater, Centenary College of Louisiana.

Snider's main responsibilities will be assisting with administrative duties and limited practice duties, such as catching in the bullpen and setting up all equipment prior to practice. On game days, Snider will contribute to all areas of game management.

While serving on the coaching staff at Centenary, Snider assisted in a number of different areas including hitting, outfield coaching and scouting.

Prior to his time at Centenary, Snider spent two seasons as an assistant softball coach at Lindsey Wilson College from 2001-03. His coaching duties dealt specifically with hitting techniques where he was instrumental in raising the school's batting average to .312.

In addition to serving as an assistant coach at Lindsey Wilson, Snider has also served in the director capacity for the the Champions Softball Camp in Louisville, Ky., since 2003. Snider is no stranger to the Oklahoma softball scene as he has been involved with the Sooners' softball camps over the past two years.

The Bowling Green, Ky., native graduated from Centenary College of Louisiana with a bachelor's degree in psychology. Snider is currently pursuing a master's degree in human relations at the University of Oklahoma.

Snider is engaged to Lauren Koehn of Bellville, Texas, and the couple plan to marry August 12, 2006.

2006 OKLAHOMA SOFTBALL MEDIA GUIDE

2005 REVIEW

LOOKING BACK

It wasn't supposed to end that way. Not with four seniors and eight starters returning. Yet the postseason hand the Oklahoma softball team was dealt proved too daunting.

After claiming the Regional 14 Championship in front of their home fans in Norman, the 14-seed Sooners were unable to survive a Super Regional matchup with the three-seed Wildcats of Arizona. The Sooners were swept in the best-of-three series and missed out on the Women's College World Series for the first time since 1999.

OU ended the season with a 50-17 record and No. 13 ranking, which is its lowest final ranking since 1999. The top-15 ranking doesn't do justice to the accomplishments of the 2005 squad.

The Sooners were one of the best hitting teams in program history. They were fourth in the NCAA with a .320 batting average, ninth in scoring, 21st in winning percentage, 30th in home runs, second in doubles, 18th in stolen bases and 13th in slugging percentage.

Perhaps the most memorable part of the season was the record 29-game winning streak that spanned 36 days and was extended during play in five different states. The Sooners outscored opponents 218-40, run-ruled 10 opponents and claimed five tourney championships during the streak.

The offensive totals were largely due to the efforts of the four-player senior class who will be sorely missed. The foursome of Christina Enea, Kami Keiter, Jessica Leslie and Heather Scaglione tallied 11 All-Big 12, seven All-Midwest Region and four All-America honors during their careers. They left as one of the most accomplished classes in OU softball history.

The cupboard is far from empty though. All-American rally starters Kristin Vesely (second team) and Norrelle Dickson (third team) return to lead the offensive effort. The one and two hitters in the lineup scored 31 percent of the Sooners runs this season and more importantly, led their team to a 32-2 record when they scored in the first inning.

Vesely will have a tough time topping her 2005 effort when she hit .451, which was sixth in the NCAA and an OU single season record. She also ranked no lower than third in the OU record books in runs (63), hits (97) and stolen bases (32). The senior was one of 10 finalists, along with Scaglione, for the USA Softball Player of the Year award.

Two other starters (Jamie Fox and Savannah Long) will return for the 2006 campaign, giving the Sooners a strong nucleus to build around a stellar incoming class.
All together the Sooners will return 13 players in 2006, including junior-to-be Mariee Mena who redshirted during the 2005 season.

Three pitchers (Stacy Braddock, Nicole Denes, Jadyn Smith) return and will be joined in the rotation by five-star recruits Morgan Hudsonpillar (Bartlesville, Okla.) and D.J. Mathis (East Alton, Ill.).

Head coach Patty Gasso is excited about the young team that will hit Marita Hynes Field next season and expects the group to the build on their second place Big 12 finish.

It is also time to start a new WCWS streak and Coach Gasso is confident in the new look team that will take the field next season.

"We lost some great, program building players and there is no way to understate that," said Gasso. "But I am really excited about our incoming class. We are going to be a young and talented team with the same goals, which begin with reaching the World Series and competing for a national championship."

CLASS RANK

The 2005 senior class (Christina Enea, Heather Scaglione, Kami Keiter and Jessica Leslie) arguably went out as the best in school history.

In fact, based on career accomplishments, the 2005 class' only competition is the 2001 six pack (LaKisha Washington, Lisa Carey, Jamie White, Ashli Barrett, Andrea Davis and Mandy Fulton). The 2001 crew currently appears 32 times on the career lists. The 2005 class appears on the career lists 31 times, which is significant considering it has two less players than 2001.

The 2005 senior class also holds a couple of distinctions over 2001. The quartet is the first in OU history to have three different graduating players with All-America honors. It also is more well-rounded. The 2001 version did not have a pitcher on any lists. The 2005 team has Kami Keiter, who ranks in the top six of all nine career pitching categories.

REGIONAL OFFENSIVE PRODUCTION

Over the last six seasons, OU's offense has scorched its way through regionals. Since 2000, OU has gone 23-1 in regionals and has hit .341 as a team. The Sooners have outscored opponents 152-38 (219-643) and opponents have managed more than two runs on just three occasions.

The offense has been even hotter when the Sooners are hosting the tournament. At the OU Softball Complex, OU has hit .349 (141-403) during regional play, as opposed to a .325 (78-240) mark on the road.

FOUR RELIABLE ARMS

The 2005 pitching staff may have been the deepest of the Patty Gasso era. As a group they had a combined ERA of 1.85, good for fourth in the Big 12. Senior Kami Keiter (32-7, 1.37) finished her career with 102 victories. Freshman Stacy Braddock (7-8, 2.58) developed into the second option behind Keiter. Junior Nicole Denes (8-1, 2.66) struck out 100 batters in 81.2 innings of work as the No. 3. Preseason No. 4 starter Jadyn Smith (3-1) won the staff ERA title with a solid 1.35 mark.

2005 NOTES

ALL-AMERICA HONORS

Three Oklahoma softball players were named to the 2005 Louisville Slugger/NFCA teams.

Leading the pack was senior catcher Heather Scaglione, who earned a first team award, as the first player in OU history to receive two first-team honors in her career.

Kristin Vesely landed on the second team as an outfielder. It marks the first such national honor for the All-Big 12 player who has earned All-Big 12 honors each of her first three seasons in Norman.

It is also the first career honor for Norrelle Dickson, who also garnered first team All-Big 12 honors. She was named as a third baseman to the third team.

FIVE SOONERS EARN MIDWEST ALL-REGION HONORS

Five players on the Oklahoma softball team were named to the National Fastpitch Coaches Midwest All-Region team. Garnering first team acclaim were pitcher Kami Keiter, third baseman Norrelle Dickson, catcher Heather Scaglione and outfielder Kristin Vesely. Earning second team honors for the Sooners was outfielder Jessica Leslie.

It marks the second time that Dickson (2004), Scaglione (2004) and Keiter (2003) have picked up All-Region honors in their respective careers. It is the first such honor for Leslie and Vesely. OU has collected 58 All-Midwest accolades all-time.

The awards add to an already long list from the season. Five Sooners were named to the All-Big 12 first team, while Scaglione also earned the Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year award. Additionally, Scaglione and Vesely were semifinalists for the USA Softball Player of the Year award.

USA PLAYER OF THE YEAR SEMIFINALISTS

Oklahoma softball players Kristin Vesely and Heather Scaglione were named to the semifinal list of 10 players for the USA Softball Player of the Year Award. It marks just the second time that an OU player has reached the final 10 (Leah Gulla in 2003). OU and Michigan (Jennie Ritter and Jessica Merchant) were the only teams with two players on the semifinalist list.

Jessica Leslie was on the initial list of 25 but did not make the semifinal cut. Norrelle Dickson and Kami Keiter were on the preseason watch list, along with Scaglione, but did not make the first cut of 25.

SCAGLIONE NAMED TO USA ELITE TEAM

The Amateur Softball Association, the national governing body of softball in the United States and USA Softball announced the selection of the 2005 Women's National and Elite Teams. 2005 All-American Heather Scaglione was named to 16-person Elite Team that competed in two international tournaments last summer.

The 16-member Elite Team represented the Red, White and Blue at the Canada Cup in Surrey, B.C. and the Inter-Continental Cup in Madrid, Spain.

Scaglione and Kristin Vesely tried out for the USA squads at the National Team tryout camp from June 13-17. Vesely was not named to either USA squad. Christina Enea was invited to the camp but did not attend because of professional obligations with the Chicago Bandits of the National Pro Fastpitch league.

Scaglione competed with the USA Elite Team last fall and helped guide the squad to the gold medal in the first World University Games for Softball. She was joined on the medal-winning team by Norrelle Dickson and recently graduated Kami Keiter.

STREAKS

Notable streaks from the 2005 season:

184 - Consecutive games started by Kristin Vesely.
142 - Consecutive weeks since the inception of the NFCA Poll that OU has been ranked in the top 25.
119 - Consecutive game errorless streak for Jessica Leslie that was snapped against Texas (4/9).
79 - Length of Kami Keiter's career best streak of innings without allowing an earned run.
31- Length of home winning streak that was snapped by Texas A&M on April 16.
29 - School record winning streak set from Feb. 11 to March 19.
23 - Game hitting streak by Kristin Vesely, which set the OU record before being broken against UTEP on March 14.
12 - Consecutive seasons of 40 or more wins, 11 under Gasso, which OU clinched with DH sweep of Texas Tech on April 11.
12 - Consecutive trips to the NCAA postseason.
10 - Consecutive games that OU scored five or more runs. The record streak was snapped vs. FSU (2/26).
12 - Career high hitting streak for Norrelle Dickson, that was snapped against UNLV (3/6). It is just the second of at least 12 games since 2001. Vesely's record streak is the other.
6 - Consecutive wins for OU in the Bedlam Series.
6 - Consecutive Regional Championships.

GASSO JOINS 500 & 700 CLUBS

OU head coach Patty Gasso won the 700th game of her collegiate head coaching career with a 4-0 defeat of Nebraska on May 1. The 700 victories have come during stops at OU and Long Beach City College.

Gasso won the 500th game of her OU coaching career on Feb. 18 in a 11-1 win over Lipscomb. Her OU career mark is 544-179-1 (.751). She distanced herself from the previous Sooner coaches a long time ago. In fact, the next closest in career wins is former OU administrator Marita Hynes, who went 256-189 from 1977-84.

Her current career record (OU and LBCC) is 706-238-1 (.748).

COMEBACK OF THE YEAR

Oklahoma starting pitcher Nicole Denes was sidelined for the last 30 games of her sophomore season (2004) with a heart arrhythmia (medically termed superventricular tachycardia). Denes had an irregular heart beat while OU was at Texas A&M (3/28) and was held out of competition from that point. The condition was diagnosed by OU athletics staff cardiologist Dr. Phil Adamson. Denes was on medication for three months before undergoing successful heart surgery on July 9, 2004. Two weeks later she was cleared for full physical activity. Denes finished her 2005 camp with a 16-6 record and 1.82 ERA in 142.1 innings of work.

THE WINNING STREAK

OU set a school record by winning 29 consecutive games from Feb. 11 to March 19. Below are the details:

- The steak was the longest in OU history. The previous record was a 23-gamer from 2001.
- OU's streak began with a 1-0 win over Sam Houston State on Feb. 11 and ended with a 4-0 loss to then-No. 1 Arizona.
- OU's streak was the longest streak in the NCAA Division I softball, until the Sooners relinquished the honor to No. 1 Michigan, which has a current streak of 27.
- OU outscored its opponents 218-40 during the streak.
- The offense hit .387 with 29 home runs, 207 RBI and 63 stolen bases.
- Eight regulars hit above .300 with three (Vesely, Dickson, Scaglione) of those topping .400.
- OU scored 10 or more runs six times during the streak. The Sooners reached 10 or more hits 19 times and run-ruled opponents 10 times.
- The pitching staff had a combined ERA of 1.13 and ace Kami Keiter allowed just three earned runs in 88 innings.
- No. 2 hitter Kristin Vesely hit safely in 27 of the last 29 games, which included the OU record hitting streak of 23 games. She hit .576 with 57 hits, 16 extra base hits, 23 RBI, 18 stolen bases and a .604 on-base percentage during the streak.
- Leadoff hitter Norrelle Dickson also caught fire with a .447 batting average during the streak. The 1-2 duo of Dickson and Vesely scored at least one run in 27 of the 29 games.
- OU scored five or more runs in 10 consecutive contests (Feb. 12-26), which is a school record. The previous best was seven, which was set five times. The most recent time was in 2002.
- The streak was the 17th of 10 or more games in OU history. Thirteen of those streaks have come under current head coach Patty Gasso.

LANA MORAN

Oklahoma pitcher Lana Moran took the term "student-athlete" to new heights with her 2000 Academic All-American of the Year recognition.

The lone senior on the 2000 team that won OU's first softball national championship, Moran captained the team as she tallied a 26-2 mark with five shutouts. Her 1.28 ERA led the Big 12 Conference.

Moran's biggest achievement came in the classroom where the San Bernardino, Calif., native compiled a 3.88 grade point average in sociology. She was named Academic All-Big 12 in each of her four seasons.

Moran was a two-time GTE first team Academic All-American. In 2000, she became the first Sooner in any sport to be named Academic All-American of the Year.

UNIVERSITY

PRESIDENT DAVID BOREN

David L. Boren, who has served Oklahoma as governor and U.S. senator, became the 13th president of the University of Oklahoma in November 1994. He is the first person in state history to have served in all three positions.

Boren is widely respected for his academic credentials, his longtime support of education, and for his distinguished political career as a reformer of the American political system. A graduate of Yale University in 1963, Boren majored in American history, graduated in the top one percent of his class and was elected Phi Beta Kappa. He was selected as a Rhodes Scholar and earned a master's degree in politics, philosophy and economics from Oxford University, England, in 1965.

In 1968, he received a law degree from the University of Oklahoma College of Law, where he was on the Law Review, elected to the Order of the Coif, and won the Bledsoe Prize as the outstanding graduate by a vote of the faculty.

As Oklahoma's governor from 1974 through 1978, Boren promoted key educational initiatives that have had an enduring impact on Oklahoma. Established during his tenure were: the Oklahoma Summer Arts Institute, the Scholar-Leadership Enrichment Program, and the Oklahoma Physicians Manpower Training Program, which provides scholarships for medical students and medical personnel who commit to practice in underserved rural areas. Also, the first state funding for Gifted and Talented classes was provided in 1976 and, from 1976 through 1978, Oklahoma ranked first among all states in the percentage increases of funding for higher education.

One of Boren's most far-reaching projects in promoting quality education at all levels is the Oklahoma Foundation for Excellence, which he founded in 1985. The foundation recognizes outstanding public school students and teachers and helps establish private local foundations to help give academic endowment grants to local public schools. As a senator, he was the author of the National Security Education Act in 1992, which provides scholarships for study abroad and for learning additional languages, as well as legislation to restore the tax deductibility of gifts of appreciated property to universities in 1993.

Boren, also a former state legislator, spent nearly three decades in elective politics before becoming the president of the University of Oklahoma. Boren was the youngest governor in the nation when he served from 1974 to 1978. Known as a reformer, Boren campaigned with a broom as his symbol. During his term, he instituted many progressive programs, including conflict-of-interest rules, campaign-financing disclosure, stronger open meeting laws for public bodies, and more competitive bidding on state government contracts.

During his time in the U.S. Senate -- from 1979 to 1994 -- Boren served on the Senate Finance and Agriculture Committees and was the longest-serving chairman of the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence. From his days as a state legislator and governor of Oklahoma to Washington, Boren carried a commitment to reform, leading numerous efforts to make government work better for American citizens. As chairman of the Senate Intelligence Committee, he strengthened oversight of secret government programs and reformed the procedures for Presidential notice of such programs to Congress.

For more than 10 years, he led the fight for congressional campaign finance reform and for legislation discouraging administration and congressional staff from cashing in on government experience and contacts by becoming lobbyists. In addition, he introduced legislation seeking to limit gifts and travel subsidies that government workers, including members of Congress, can receive from lobbyists. Boren also chaired the special 1992-93 Joint Committee on the Organization of Congress, which produced proposals to make Congress more efficient and responsive by streamlining congressional bureaucracy, reducing staff sizes and reforming procedures to end legislative gridlock. Boren left the U.S. Senate in 1994 with an approval rating of 9l percent after being re-elected with 83 percent of the vote in 1990, the highest percentage in the nation in a U.S. Senate contest in that election year.

Boren served from 1988-1997 on the Yale University Board of Trustees. His university experience also includes four years on the faculty of Oklahoma Baptist University, where he was chairman of the Department of Political Science and of the Division of Social Sciences. In 1993, the American Association of University Professors presented Boren with the Henry Yost Award as Education Advocate of the Year.

In April 2004, Boren received the Mory's Cup from the Mory's Association from Yale University. In making the presentation to Boren, it was noted that he was the first Yale graduate in the university's history extending over three centuries to have served as a Governor, U.S. Senator and President of a major university.

Under Boren's leadership, the University of Oklahoma has developed and emerged as a "pacesetter university in American public higher education," with 20 major new programs initiated since his inauguration. They include establishment of the an Honors College, the Charles M. Russell Center for the Study of Art of the American West, the Artist-in-Residence Program, the International Programs Center, and the Faculty-in-Residence Program putting faculty family apartments in student residence halls. The Retired Professors Program has been started, bringing 50 retired full professors back to the University to teach freshmen.

Boren is married to Molly Shi Boren, a former judge and English teacher. Molly Boren has two degrees from the University of Oklahoma, a master's degree in English and a Juris Doctor degree from the OU College of Law. A native of Seminole, Boren has two children, Carrie Christine Boren, a graduate student at Oxford University and David Daniel Boren, a member of the United States House of Representatives. Devoting much of his life to public service, Boren drew from the example of his father, the late Congressman Lyle H. Boren.

ATHLETICS DIRECTOR JOE CASTIGLIONE

In seven years, Joe Castiglione has established a pattern of excellence that few in his profession could match. While Castiglione would quickly point out that the credit belongs to the student-athletes and coaches, the staff and the university administration, the donors and the fans, someone had to make the first step to take the lead. Under the heading of "Inspiring Champions Today … Preparing leaders for tomorrow" Castiglione has authored one of the most successful athletics eras ever witnessed at OU and an expansion of facilities that is unmatched in Sooner history.

His peers have been quick and frequent in recognizing his success at OU. In October 2004, he was named Athletics Director of the Year by the Bobby Dodd Foundation. In 2003, he was inducted into the National Association of Collegiate Marketing Administrators Hall of Fame. In June 2001, he received the General Robert R. Neyland Athletic Director Award for lifetime achievement from the All-American Football Foundation. In 2000, he was named the Central Region AD of the Year by the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA).

The 11th director of athletics at the University of Oklahoma has celebrated five national championships, record numbers of graduating student-athletes, dramatically increased donor giving, huge increases in ticket sales for all sports, major facility improvements and development and construction of new facilities. And, as aggressive as the push to improve, expand and excel has been, he has produced a balanced budget in every year of his tenure, a first since the early 1980s.

Other competitive highlights of Castiglione's tenure include …
• Five straight years among the top 25 in the standings for the Director's Cup which measures overall athletics success.
• Twenty OU teams ranked among the top 10 in season-ending polls.
• A school-record and Big 12 best graduation rate of 74% in 2003.
• Three appearances in the BCS National Championship Game and the college football national championship in 2000.
• Appearances by the men's and women's basketball team in their respective Final Fours in 2002.
• A Division I record of 74 combined victories between the football team and both basketball squads in the 2001-02 school year.
• An average of more than 17 OU teams per year represented in post-season play during his tenure.

Credited with energizing OU's fundraising efforts, Castiglione was instrumental in the athletics department's major campaign, Great Expectations: The Campaign For Sooner Sports.

The campaign ended in November of 2003 with more than $125 million. The largest fund-raising effort in OU athletics history, Great Expectations included projects that impact each of OU's nearly 500 student-athletes.

Castiglione has cultivated several million dollar gifts, the largest capital gifts in history for athletics at OU and some of the largest ever for the university as a whole. He has driven dramatic facilities projects, including a $70 million project at Gaylord Family-Oklahoma Memorial Stadium. Others include $17.2 million renovation of Lloyd Noble Center, the Headington Family Tennis Complex, John Jacobs Field and the Everest Training Facility, one of the largest indoor practice areas in the country. He also has overseen a redesign of the Sooner football practice fields; the Port Robertson Wrestling Facility; the Sooner Soccer Complex and John Crain Field; as well as additional renovations to L. Dale Mitchell Park, the Charlie Coe Golf Learning Center, the OU Softball Complex and Barry Switzer Center. His administrative work, which has seen significant reorganization and the hiring of nine head coaches, also included the negotiation of multi-million dollar multi-media rights contract that produces more than $3 million in annual revenue for the athletics department.

Castiglione was hired on April 30, 1998, after serving as athletics director at Missouri. Castiglione, who was named director of athletics at Missouri on Dec. 15, 1993, decided to head to Sooner country after rebuilding sports programs, hiring outstanding coaches, devising a master plan for facilities, inspiring record-setting increases in fund-raising and balancing the budget in each of his five years as athletics director.

A 1979 Maryland graduate, Castiglione began his career as the sports promotions director at Rice. He then worked a year as director of athletic fund-raising at Georgetown before being hired in 1981 at Missouri as director of communications and marketing.

Active on the national and conference level, he is currently serving on the Board of Directors for the Collegiate Women Sports Awards, the Gatorade Collegiate Advisory Board and the National Football Foundation and College Football Hall of Fame. He served two terms as chair of the Big 12 Board of Athletics Directors and is a past president of the Division I-A Athletic Directors Association and NACDA. He served a four-year term on the NCAA Championship/Competition Cabinet and is a member of the NCAA Football Special Events Certification Committee. He also served a four-year term on the NCAA's Baseball Committee.

A native of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Castiglione was born Oct. 8, 1957. He is married to the former Kristen Bartel, a 1990 graduate of the University of Missouri. They are the parents of two sons, Joseph Robert, Jr., born on December 20, 1996, and Jonathan Edmund, born on March 21, 2000.

ATHLETICS ADMINISTRATION

LARRY NAIFEH
EXECUTIVE ASSOCIATE ATHLETICS DIRECTOR

In his 19th year with the University of Oklahoma is Executive Associate Athletic Director Larry Naifeh. Twice since May 1996, Naifeh has served the university as interim athletics director.

Naifeh's association with the athletic department began in September 1991, when he was named compliance officer. He had served as a member of OU's legal counsel staff beginning in January 1986. Current areas of responsibility for the athletic department include Fiscal Operations, Capital Improvements, NCAA compliance, contracts and other legal issues, event operations, risk management, and special projects.

Naifeh coordinates and supervises the Athletic Department's over $120,000,000 in recent and on going capital improvement projects. Projects include the renovation and expansion of the Gaylord Family Oklahoma Memorial Stadium, the Barry Switzer Center, the Lloyd Noble Center additions, golf, football locker room, softball, wrestling, volleyball, soccer, baseball, tennis, the Everest Training Center, the McCasland Fieldhouse, the John Jacobs Track and Field, and other current and planned facilities improvements.

Naifeh came to OU after serving seven years as assistant city attorney for the City of Oklahoma City. He is a member of the Oklahoma Bar Association, the Cleveland County Bar Association, the National Association of College and University Attorneys, and is a past chairman of Cleveland County Court Appointed Special Advocates.

A graduate of the University of Oklahoma, Naifeh holds a bachelor's degree in law enforcement administration and a juris doctorate. While in college, he was a member of Alpha Tau Omega social fraternity, Phi Eta Sigma Honor Society and Phi Beta Kappa, and was a Robert Dean Bass Scholar. A member of the Oklahoma Rugby Club, Naifeh is the coach of the U.S. Western Rugby Territory, national champions in 1992, 1993, 1994, 1997, 1998, 2000 and 2001. In 2002, Naifeh was named as the Head Coach of the 2002 United States of America Collegiate All-American Rugby Team. Naifeh led the All Americans on a 2002 tour of South Africa where they earned a record of two wins and one loss in one of the world's top rugby nations.

Naifeh's family includes his wife, Mary, daughters Tyson and Jessica and son-in-law, Josh Blyden.

DR. GERALD GURNEY
ASSOCIATE ATHLETICS DIRECTOR FOR ACADEMIC AFFAIRS

Gerald Gurney, Ph.D., who is in charge of OU's student life center and academic services, joined the staff in September of 1993.

In June 2003, OU was one of 32 programs in Division I-A to be honored by the American Football Coaches Association for posting a graduation rate of more than 70 percent. In August, the graduation rate for Sooner student-athletes, to be announced by the NCAA, will be a record for OU and will lead the Big 12 Conference.

Since his arrival, Gurney has merged all support functions into one area with a focus on graduation and preparation of the student-athlete for the world after college.

Gurney currently serves on the President's Task Force on Graduation and Retention, the Provost's Enrollment Management Board and the University College Advisory Board. He serves as an Adjunct Professor in the departments of educational psychology, adult and higher education and human relations. Last year he received the Outstanding Adjunct Professor of the Year award in the Department of Educational Leadership and Policy Studies for his outstanding service in the department.

Gurney graduated cum laude from The Ohio State University in 1973 with a degree in English education. He earned his master's in student personnel work and counseling in 1976 from Ohio State and then received his Ph.D. from Iowa State University in higher education administration in 1980.

He began his career in athletics as an academic counselor at Iowa State. He left ISU to become assistant athletic director for academic affairs at SMU before serving as associate athletics director for academic support and compliance at the University of Maryland. Later, as assistant to the provost, his duties focused on campus retention efforts and undergraduate academic advising.

He has served on NCAA Certification teams which conduct peer reviews of institutional adherence to operating principles for governance, equity and academic integrity since 1993. He has been a member of the editorial review board for the International Journal of Sport Management since 1999.

He and his wife, Debra Stuart, have a daughter, Rachel.

STEPHANIE REMPE
ASSOCIATE ATHLETICS DIRECTOR/ SENIOR WOMAN ADMINISTRATOR

Stephanie Rempe joined the University of Oklahoma Athletic Department staff as an Associate Athletic Director and the Senior Woman Administrator in July of 2003 after spending five years in the same capacity at the University of Texas at El Paso.

At OU, Rempe is responsible for the oversight of women's basketball, softball, volleyball, soccer, men's and women's cross country, indoor and outdoor track, men's and women's gymnastics and wrestling. She also is responsible for the department's strength and conditioning program and the sports medicine program, including the sports medicine centers and team physicians.

Rempe plays an active role with the Student-Athlete Advisory Board and worked to create the inaugural National Girls and Women in Sports annual celebration in February 2004.

She served as the department's liaison for the production of the 2004 Self Study Report for the NCAA Certification Plan.

At UTEP, Rempe oversaw volleyball, women's basketball, rifle, women's golf, softball, men's and women's indoor and outdoor track and field and cross country, women's tennis, women's soccer, cheerleaders, football internal operations, the NCAA Champs/Lifeskills Program, sports medicine center and the strength and conditioning program.

Rempe functioned as the liaison between the WAC, NCAA and UTEP in conjunction with the athletics director and faculty athletics representative. She served on the WAC Council, the WAC Legislative Review Committee, the WAC Basketball Task Force and the WAC Student-Athlete Opportunity Fund Committee and was a member of the NCAA Peer Review Team.

As a senior staff member, she assisted in developing and presenting a balanced athletic budget and maintaining the athletic department strategic plan. Rempe assisted with each athletic arena's facility enhancements and functioned as the liaison between the athletic department staff, the architects and the contractors for the construction of the 65,000-square-foot Larry K. Durham Sports Center.

Prior to her time at UTEP, Rempe spent three years at The University of Arizona, her alma mater, serving as a Senior Program Coordinator.

A recipient of a bachelor's degree in business administration from Arizona, Rempe later earned her master's degree from U of A in sports administration. She was a four-year letterwinner on the Arizona volleyball team. In 2004, she was inducted into the Santa Barbara Athletic Round Table Hall of Fame.

RICK HART

ASSOCIATE ATHLETICS DIRECTOR FOR EXTERNAL OPERATIONS

Rick Hart joined the Oklahoma Athletics Department in July 1999, as Director of Athletics Marketing/ Licensing. He was promoted to Assistant Athletics Director for Marketing/Licensing in June, 2001. In the fall of 2003, Hart's responsibilities with the department expanded yet again with a promotion to his current position of Associate Athletics Director.

Hart is involved in the daily operations of the OU Athletics Department and directly manages Marketing/ Promotions, Licensing/Branding, Merchandising, Athletics Broadcasting, Information Technologies, Internet Services, Multimedia/Sponsorships, and Game Management/Event Operations.

Under Hart's direction, third-party partnerships have been extended with the Collegiate Licensing Company, Sooner Sports Properties, Aramark Corporation, University Food Services and Follett Higher Education Group. Additionally, a new, innovative internet partnership was formed with XoS Technologies, providing Sooner fans with the most accurate and up-to-date information on Oklahoma athletics at SoonerSports.com. The website features the O-Zone -- a premium subscription service that delivers exclusive audio, video and editorial content. These relationships have resulted in an enhanced fan experience, increased annual revenues and greater exposure for the University of Oklahoma and its athletics program.

During Hart's tenure, records for attendance and ticket sales have been established in nearly every sport. Radio and television coverage has been enhanced and expanded for many sports including football, men and women's basketball, baseball, softball and wrestling. Internet coverage also increased with over 100 live OU sporting events webcast on SoonerSports.com last season. Revenues derived from sponsorships and licensing have increased each year and now total approximately $6 million annually. Hart is also credited with spearheading efforts to foster relationships on campus and in the community and improving student ticket policies for football and men's basketball.

A 1994 graduate of the University of North Carolina with a bachelor's degree in physical education, health and sport science, Hart began working in the Tar Heel athletic business office as a student in 1992. After moving to the athletic ticket office to work as an intern upon graduation, Hart was hired on a full-time basis in 1995 and served as the University of North Carolina's assistant director of ticket operations. During his stint at North Carolina, he also served as a box office supervisor for the U.S. Olympic Committee during the 1996 Summer Olympics in Atlanta, Ga. before accepting his current position at OU.

Hart and his wife, Allison -- also a graduate of North Carolina -- have one son, Trevor Andrew (6) and one daughter, Caroline Abigail (3).

KENNY MOSSMAN

ASSOCIATE ATHLETICS DIRECTOR FOR COMMUNICATIONS

Kenny Mossman joined the OU staff in August of 2001 as director of media relations. In August of 2002, he was promoted (from assistant AD) to associate athletics director in August 2004. Previously, he worked at Illinois State and Kansas State.

At OU, he oversees seven full-time staff members, including publications and graphics design. With his primary sport responsibility in football, he and his staff have promoted winners of the Heisman, Bednarik, Butkus, Lombardi, Nagurski, O'Brien and Thorpe Awards. In all, OU has won 14 college football national player awards and 18 All-America citations during his tenure.

He came to Norman after serving 10 years as assistant athletics director/media relations at Illinois State. He built ISU's radio network into the largest in its history and helped negotiate the most extensive local television package at the school. He also negotiated radio contracts that doubled the number of ISU women's basketball games on radio and added women's volleyball to the sports receiving live radio coverage.

While SID at Kansas State, the Wildcat stop was twice voted the top stop on the Big Eight Skywriter's Tour (in 1989 and 1990). He hosted the Jack Hartman Television Show in 1986 and was a color commentator on the Wildcat Basketball Network from 1984-91.

Mossman began his career as the sports editor at the Pratt, Kan., Daily Tribune, winning two Kansas Press Association awards while at the newspaper.

He has served on the media staff for four bowl games, two NCAA Men's Final Fours and nine men's basketball regionals and subregionals. He has been media coordinator at two NCAA women's basketball regionals. Nine of his publications have won awards from the College Sports Information Directors of America and he has supervised a number of other CoSIDA publication award winners. His 2001, 2002 and 2003 Sooner bowl guides were judged best in the nation among all post-season guides.

A graduate of Southwestern College in Winfield, Kan., Mossman lettered in basketball from 1978-81. He earned his bachelor's degree in 1981 and completed a master's degree in mass communications at Kansas State in 1989.

Mossman, who also teaches a sports public relations course at OU, has two sons: Scott (18) and Matthew (14).

KEITH GILL

ASSOCIATE ATHLETICS DIRECTOR FOR ADMINISTRATION

Keith Gill, formerly the director of the NCAA's Membership Services, joined the Sooner family in August of 2004.

In his role with the Sooners, Gill works closely with the NCAA and Big 12 Conference, while monitoring institutional and athletic department policy. He supervises the compliance and compliance education programs, the department's strategic planning efforts, the department's risk assessment and management programs and the human resources area. Gill also serves as a sports administrator for men's basketball and soccer.

Gill began his career as an intern at the NCAA in September of 1994. Later, he served as a compliance representative where he provided interpretation of NCAA legislation, conducted athletics certifications visits and compliance reviews.

After five years in his initial NCAA stint, Gill became assistant athletics director for administration at Vanderbilt in February of 1999. He was responsible for annual and strategic planning, facilitation of senior management team meetings and the institution's compliance efforts and support staff.

Gill returned to the NCAA in August of 2000 and remained there until coming to Norman. As director of membership services, he oversaw the NCAA's self-study efforts, including the Division I athletics certification program, the compliance review program and institutional self-study guide. He served as liaison to the Division I Athletics Certification Committee and the Minority Opportunities and Interest Committee. Other responsibilities included working with the recruiting task force and diversity enhancement programs.

Gill has a bachelor's degree in history from Duke, where he was a four-year letterwinner as a running back on the football team. He originally hails from Orlando, Fla.

MATT TRANTHAM

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS FOR EVENT MANAGEMENT

Matt Trantham joined the Sooner staff in July 1999 as director of promotions. He was promoted to assistant director of athletics for event management in August 2004. In that role, he oversees the activities of the event management, promotions, marketing and gameday staff. He also serves as the department's liaison with postseason championship events hosted on behalf of the Big 12 and the NCAA.

The promotion expands the role Trantham previously had with the department. As director of promotions, he coordinated the marketing and promotional activities for OU's 20 sports. He helped develop programs that led to record-setting attendance figures and directed gameday operations. He managed the Premier Partners Program which was responsible for $1.2 million in annual revenues and collaborated with Sooner Sports Properties to implement sponsorship and multi-media opportunities that produced annual revenue in excess of $2 million. He was directly involved in cultivating and developing relationships on campus with students, faculty and staff and conducted several programs that fostered community relations.

Additionally, he served as tournament director for the 2002 Big 12 Wrestling Championship and the 2001 Big 12 Women's Gymnastics Championship. He coordinated marketing and promotions efforts related to the 2000 and 2004 NCAA Baseball regionals, the 2000-2002 and 2004 NCAA Softball regionals, the 2001-2003 NCAA Women's Basketbal first and second round games, the 2004 NCAA Women's Basketball Regional and the 2002 NCAA Men's Gymnastics Championship.

Trantham began his career with the Washington Redskins, working one season in game operations. He then became an even coordinator and sports management intern wit the Washington Bullets. After 10 months in that position, he worked for Washington Sports and Entertainment in sales, marketing and promotions for the Washingon Wizards and Capitals.

He was promoted to assistant director of game operations in May 1998, working witht the Wizards, the Capitals and the WNBA's Mystics.

Trantham earned his B.S. degree in business management from Centenary College in 1990 and added a M.S. in sports management from the United States Sports Academy in 1998. He is a member of the National Association of Collegiate Marketing Administrators and serves as a representative on the Norman Convention and Visitors Bureau sports committee.

Trantham and his wife, Kristen have one son, Will (3).

CONNIE DILLON

FACULTY ATHLETICS REPRESENTATIVE

New to her role as Faculty Athletics Representative for the University of Oklahoma, Connie Dillon is familiar with the department's commitment to student-athletes and its role in shaping Big 12 and NCAA policies, having served on the Athletics Council for many years.

Dillon, a professor and director of the Research Center for Continuing Professional and Higher Education at the University of Oklahoma since July 1998, was named to the position of Faculty Athletics Representative in the summer of 2005 following the retirement of long-time representative Dan Gibbens. Dillon, whose career at OU began initially in 1977, received her master's degree in public administration from OU in 1975 and earned her Ph.D. in education technology from OU in 1980.

She has worked for the Congressional Research Service of the Library of Congress, the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education and has held academic positions at Montana State University and the University of Oklahoma. She also served as the director of media services and telecommunications at Cameron University.

Since returning to OU in 1988, Dillon has served as chair of both the Norman campus Faculty Senate and the OU Athletics Council. She served in the Faculty Senate for eight years and has been a member of the Athletics Council and NCAA certification committees since 1992. She has received the UOSA Outstanding Professor Award and served on many search committees for academic and athletic appointments.

She is a well-published author in the field of distance learning and received the Elizabeth Powell Award for excellence in research in educational telecommunications. She has served on a number of scholarly juries, panels, and professional committees

A native Oklahoman, she and her husband, Dave, have one daughter, Jenny, age 17.

UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA ATHLETICS DEPARTMENT

McClendon Center for Intercollegiate Athletics

Norman, OK 73019

OU ATHLETICS DEPARTMENT MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of the University of Oklahoma Athletics Department is to inspire champions today and prepare leaders for tomorrow by providing an excellent environment to enable student-athletes to achieve their highest academic, athletic and personal aspirations.

CORE VALUES

- Integrity
- Passion for Excellence
- Commitment
- Respect & Responsibility for Self & Others
- Appreciation for and Encouragement of Gender & Cultural Diversity

PHILOSOPHY

The University of Oklahoma Athletics Department promotes excellence in athletics without compromising excellence in academics or integrity in its commitment to rules or conduct. Student-athletes are encouraged by the coaching and administrative staff to maintain a balance between athletics, academics, and the social aspects of college.

It is believed that athletic participation gives an added dimension to the student's overall college experience and provides an opportunity for social, moral, emotional, and cultural growth and development.

The athletic programs strive to create traits that once acquired will carry over and benefit student-athletes in their personal and professional endeavors. The University of Oklahoma maintains a tradition of excellence in intercollegiate sports.

The Athletics Department continues to uphold this tradition by striving to make each athletic team and individual of championship caliber. Its staff members work to instill in student-athletes an appreciation for hard work, perseverance, and pride in accomplishment. It is believed these attributes will be utilized throughout the student-athlete's life.

DIAMOND CLUB

Dear Sooner Fans,

The time has arrived to start thinking about Sooner Softball 2006. We are excited about the upcoming season and have worked diligently in the fall preparing for another run at the National Championship.

Our team returns two All-Americans, 12 letterwinners and a much improved offense. With the addition of a very talented freshman class, this team has the ingredients to compete for the Big 12 and National Championship.

We have great expectations in 2006, the largest being a sixth trip to the Women's College World Series and a chance to bring another National Championship to the University of Oklahoma. By purchasing a season ticket you will join us in our journey. It is very important to have that "home field advantage" at the Marita Hynes Field. Your support in the stands is vital to our success. We have 30 home games on the schedule with top quality competition. You won't want to miss it!

Sooner Softball is a great value for you and your family! We can't wait for the season to start and would like for you to be there to experience the excitement with us!

See you in the stands!

Head Coach Patty Gasso
